Dean Louise Fleming Plans Retirement; Board of Trustees Announces New Dean

Retiring after 19 years of service on the Meredith College staff, Louise E. Fleming will conclude her career as Dean of Students. The Board of Trustees at its January meeting announced her successor, effective with the 1969-70 academic year, to be Dr. Marie Mason.

Dean Fleming, a native of Greenville, is a graduate of Meredith College where she received the bachelor's degree with a major in history. She received her master's degree at Columbia University in political science, and a professional diploma in student personnel administration from the Columbia Teacher's College. She later did graduate work at Union Theological Seminary and the University of Chicago Divinity School.

Miss Fleming became Dean of Students at Meredith in 1950. Prior to that time she had been involved in state and national work for the Young Women's Christian Association, working with the college and university division of the headquarters staff of the National YWCA Board, New York, from 1942-50.

Commenting on her impressions as Dean of Students, Dean Fleming stated, "It has been a rewarding experience to be associated with a small, liberal arts, church-related college where faculty and students know one another personally and find communication relatively easy. With good student-faculty-administration communication many problems. Rule changes have come through nonviolent legislative processes."

While Dean Fleming has been invited to accept an appointment next year as a member of the Dean of Student's staff as provided by the College retirement policy, her successor as Dean of Students will be Dr. Marie Mason. Dr. Mason, who is currently a professor in the graduate school of the University of Kentucky in the field of counseling and psychology, is a North Carolinian. lems underlying student unrest can be solved by cooperative action."

Dean Fleming said of campus changes in the past nineteen years: "I have observed change from separate faculty and student committees and in curriculum functioning in many areas. Some rule changes which have taken place pertain to lights, bells, closing hour, senior cars, voluntary Sunday school and church attendance, and election system. Student attitudes about social life during this time have run the gamut from the chaperoned date to the current discussion of bachelor

Students, Faculty Stage "Book In"

Carrying the first arm-load of books, President Emeritus, Dr. Carlyle Campbell, officially opened the library named in his honor Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Moving plans were organized under the direction of Dr. Frank Grubbs, chairman of the Library Committee. To provide a holiday for the whole college community the moving date, originally planned for Saturday, Feb. 5, was moved to Feb. 3 at the request of the Library Committee.

Moving was unofficially begun some four or five days prior to the official move as Mr. Simmons and his staff moved heaviest volumes in wooden boxes created for the purpose.

The official move into Meredith's newest structure began at 9:00 a.m. as faculty and students assembled at the east stairs of the first floor of Johnson Hall. Under the direction of Misses Hazel Baity and Jane Greene, a monitor system was devised for book relocation. Each student was given a number to identify a stack of books upon exit from the west end of the old library. The number was presented to another monitor located in the Carlyle Campbell Library who supervised the book shelving. The process was repeated as Channel 5 television cameras filmed the movement into the new library.
