Kappa Nu Sigma Plans Program; Cansler to Speak

Speaking on the subject of "College as an Unending Experience" in chapel Monday, Mar. 3 will be James Cansler, Mr. Cansler, Dean of Men at UNC-Chapel Hill and former BSU director, will speak for the Kappa Nu Sigma Chapel program at 10:00 a.m.

Having spoken to numerous student organizations on the subject of the role of rebellion in the university, Mr. Cansler will speak to the Meredith student body in this context. The program will also be the occasion for the introduction of current student members and the recognition of faculty members in the organization.

Meredith Presents Three For Miss Raleigh Crown

Anne Davenport, Jane Holt, and Patsy Johnson will represent Meredith in the Miss Raleigh Pageant March 27. The three were selected by the Raleigh Jaycees from a field of 20 contestants which have now been narrowed to 11. The selection was made on the basis of interviews with the Jaycees and a demonstration of talent.

The girls, all displaying singing talent, are in the process of seven weeks of preparation. Meeting every Wednesday night from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., they are being instructed in the proper methods of walking, fixing make-up, and presenting their talent. The song selections made by the girls will include "Almost Like Being in Love" from Brigadoon by Anne who is accompanied by Fair Merriman, a medley from "Porgy and Bess" sung by Patsy, and an original medley composed and sung by Jane.

On March 27, a luncheon will be given for the girls at 12:00 when they will meet the judges for the first time. They will be interviewed before the 8:00 p.m. performance to be held at Enloe High School. Miss Raleigh will be selected on the basis of evening gown and bathing suit appearances and talent competition. The crowning will be made by Betty Wood, the current Miss Raleigh.

All of the girls express excitement over all aspects of the competition, yet states Anne, "The part that thrills me most is the talent, because I will be able to put to use my training under Mrs. Sullivan."

Raleigh Student Editors Meet to Aid Cooperation

Editors and their assistants from five of Raleigh's six colleges met Wednesday, Feb. 12 in the King Center on the North Carolina State campus. The informal meeting was arranged by Dr. John Yarborough as a part of the Cooperating Raleigh Colleges program.

Hosted by Pete Burkheimer, editor of the "Technician," the aim of the meeting was to gather ideas from Raleigh student editors as to what might be done as a group effort to promote a free flow of news and information among student newspapers in Raleigh and to gain a better understanding of the fundamental principals of news gathering and news writing.

A discussion of problems relevant to the campus papers of NCSU, Peace, St. Mary's, St. Augustine's and Meredith focused largely on the lack of dedicated workers. It was also decided that all six colleges would promote effective communication through an exchange of newspapers. After the discussion, all editors were given a tour and explanation of the facilities employed by the Technician in publishing. These included a demonstration of the I.B.M. equipment used for the preparation of type, an explanation of layout techniques, and a demonstration of the UPI equipment.

The next meeting of the college newspaper editors will be held on Monday, Feb. 24 on this campus. At the meeting the selection of a speaker for the group will be made.

Representatives of their college papers are Pete Burkheimer, NCSU "The Technician"; Anna Mills Scarborough, "The Peace Times"; Roosevelt Mosley, St. Augustine's College "The Pen"; Jane Aycock, St. Mary's College "The Belles"; Catherine Ellison, "The Shaw Journal"; Shera Jackson and Marilyn Childress, "The Twig."

Weekend Features Musical Meredith

SGA Makes Plans to Entertain Parents

To provide an opportunity to visit Meredith campus without assisting daughters in moving, the Student Government Association has invited parents of freshmen and seniors to Parents' Weekend, Feb. 22-23.

The weekend activities will begin on Saturday, Feb. 22, with registration in Johnson Hall followed by receptions in the first floor parlors of Brewer, Vann and Poteat dormitories. At 4:00 p.m. a special program in Jones Auditorium for students and parents will include a discussion on "Alternatives to a Teaching Career for Women." After a supper provided by the cafeteria, entertainment will be held in Jones Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Entitled "Musical Meredith," the program will include performances by Susan Soloway on the guitar, Pat Martin on the piano, Nancy Newlin on guitar, Susan Buckthal doing a ballet number, and vocal contributions by Jane Holt, Peggy Timmerman, Ayn Sullivan, and Betty King.

The Sunday agenda will also begin with registration in Johnson Hall. Dormitories will be open from 1:00-4:00 p.m. for parents to see student rooms and dormitory facilities. During this time parents may visit with faculty members in their offices from 2:00-4:00 p.m. Administrative officers will be in Johnson Hall to greet parents from 3:00-5:00 p.m.

In a letter sent to parents, SGA president, Suzanne Wright expressed the hope that the Parents' Weekend would be a "happy and enjoyable experience" for students, faculty, and parents and provide an effective liaison between the college and the home.

Hearts and Flowers Shower Meredith

Want to know how many girls are loved? The Valentine's Day survey taken by the Dean of Student's office and the Post Office shows that seniors lead the list with 18 per cent receiving flowers. The Freshmen Class, loved a little less, had 11 per cent of its members receiving roses. Trailing in love ability, or maybe in rich boyfriends, are the 9 per cent of the Junior Class and the 7 per cent of the Sophomore Class who received flowers. Added to the traditional flood of red roses were torrents of cards and candy.

(See related story page three)

FLOWER POWER arrives for Barbara Pilloud, Louise Watson and Dale Tatum.
