CHORUS TAKES ANNUAL SPRING TOUR

The Meredith Chorus left Mar. 28 to make its annual spring tour. Headed by Mrs. Jane Sullivan, the group will sing at churches and high schools in North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee.

The first night of the tour was spent in Winston-Salem. Saturday, Mar. 29 the group was in Roanoke, Va. Mar. 30 scheduled Vinton, Va. and Kingsport, Tenn. Mars Hill and Lenoir were slated for Mar. 31 with visits with North Wilkesboro and Mount Airy for Tuesday. The last day of the tour took the chorus to Statesville and back to Raleigh.

LESLIE SYRON TO SPEAK AT NCSU

Dr. Leslie Syron will be speaking to the wives of foreign students at NCSU April 16 in Joyner Hall at 7:30 p.m. The lecture, under the direction of CRC, will be on the topic, "Sociology of the South."

CRC SPONSORS ROBERT RUPEN TALK

Lectures sponsored by the CRC will be given by Dr. Robert Rupen Apr. 15. Dr. Rupen will speak on "The Sino-Soviet Rift" at 4:15 p.m. in room 100 Harrelson Hall and at 7:30 p.m. in the chapel of Peace College.

DR. YARBROUGH TO SPEAK

Dr. John Yarbrough will attend a conference on "The College Biology Curriculum" at ECU on April 19. He will also speak to the Cynthia Book Club on the topic of "CRC" April 22.

RALEIGH LITTLE THEATRE

May 8 Meredith students will have the entire 260 seats of the Raleigh Little Theatre for the Thursday evening performance of William Shakespeare's As You Like It.

Usual $1.50 tickets will be available to Meredith girls for only $1.00. The English Department will be selling tickets prior to the evening. The performance should begin at 8:00 p.m.

The English Department has reserved the theatre, but arrangements for transportation should be made by the students. Sophomores are especially urged to take advantage of the special night, but the opportunity is open to the entire student body.

Faculty Jeopardy to Test 6 Contestants, Students

Challenge the faculty to a test of knowledge? That is just what five Meredith girls will be doing at 7:00 Apr. 9 in 105 Joyner as they meet faculty members in a game of "Faculty Jeopardy." Faculty contestants include Mrs. Susan Gilbert, Mrs. Jane Sullivan, Dr. Roger Crook, Mr. Paul Smith and Dr. Charles Davis. Their student opponents are Brooks McGirt, Fair Merriman, Carol Price, Brucie Starkey and Nancy Ann Walters.

Modeled after television's "Jeopardy" game, the contest will include questions from five different categories: English, music, religion, biology, and math. Profits from the sale of tickets to the MRA sponsored event will be used for the purchase of new bicycles for the school.

Dr. Lemmon Is Hit; Show Draws 342

Some 342 students got more than their quarter's worth of laughs as "hidden" talent was revealed at the History Department Talent Show Mon., Mar. 24. The motley history crew began the program with their rendition of the Beatle's number, "I Want to Hold Your Hand." All found appropriate hands to hold, including Dr. Parramore who preferred to hold a red nailed mannequin hand.

Dr. Grubbs, with his Wee Willie Winkle candle, arrived on stage to stir hearts with his piano story of the trials and tribulations of a Meredith girl, and her NCSU fiancé.

Senorita Gates, with a more serious note, revealed her singing talent as she sang "Getting to Know You and Summertime."

Donned in green fish net hose, flashy mini dress, blond wig and boots Dr. Sarah Lemmon was billed as the star attraction. Her Meredith version of "Harper Valley PTA" nearly brought the house down.

The result of this hidden talent drive was the neat sum of $86.50 to aid the five member Meredith delegation to the Model United Nations Assembly, April 9-14.

CROOKING TRADITION

filled with Seniors clad in long dresses and high heels, determined to find the old stick . . . and the Juniors were there, equally determined to protect their treasure. The Crook turned up, and in the ensuing struggle it was broken and had to be mended. So it was that this year yet another rule was added. . . . This time to protect the crook as well as the searchers. "The Crook may not be taken by force and no one may be physically interfered with in searching."

OLD TRADITION

"Crooking" is a tradition as old as Meredith itself. The only tradition older is that of the two societies, Phis and Astros. The Crook moved from the old campus downtown along with the rest of Meredith. Pictures and stories appear in the annuals from 1906 to 1948, and in many TWIGS.

Dr. Johnson's History of Meredith College contains some brief remarks. Dr. Rose remembers searching for the Crook, and many of your mothers who graduated in the 40's may also. The Crook now is being kept by Miss Beatty.

SEARCH REVIVED

This year, 1969, a 63-year old tradition will be revived. For the third time the Crook will be resurrected, this time as part of Play Day. The Senior officers have agreed to hide it, and the search will soon begin. This is a tradition as silly as Cornhuskin', as crazy as stunt, as mystical as Alice — and it can be as much fun as all three together if only someone is interested. We think it's a tradition worth preserving. Time will tell whose colors will tie the Crook this year. The search is on!

PUB ADDITION

expanded campus life. Ever since the Beehive closed at night, it has been difficult to get snacks after dinner. With the Pub right on campus and open until eleven, it will be a great way to relax after studying.

The Pub will tentatively be open by mid-fall.
