Trustees and Associates Meet, Approve Study, Hike Tuition

Several important resolutions, as well as a $300 tuition increase, were adopted by the Board of Trustees and Board of Associates at their fall meeting on September 26-27.

According to Pres. E. Bruce Heilman, the most important resolution was the adoption by the Boards of the Self-Study program which administration, faculty, and students have been working on for the past two years. Included in the Self-Study were 301 resolutions. The Boards "accepted, endorsed, and strongly affirmed the spirit and intent" of the study. The study will now be submitted to the Southern Association for approval in November.

In other business the Boards voted to raise tuition $300, bringing the cost to $2,400 for the 1970-71 academic year. The hope was also expressed by the Trustees and Associates that in the next ten years any raise in tuition will not exceed $100 per year.

Along with the rise in tuition, a rise in student aid was also approved. "We hope in this way to prevent students from leaving Meredith for financial reasons," Dr. Heilman said.

An architect for the new college center was selected. A new salary scale for the faculty was also adopted. The new plan provides for continuing increases in salaries, notes Dr. Heilman.

New officers were also elected. Mr. Shearon Harris is the new Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Ed Rankin is the Vice Chairman, and Mr. Jethro Broadwell is the Secretary. Mr. C. C. Cameron was elected the new chairman of the Board of Associates.

The Board also elected the new faculty members for the 1970-71 academic year.

Trustees-elect, who will take their places on the Board in January of 1970 were guests at the dinner meeting of the Board.

Jane Holt Named To Raleigh Group

Jane Holt, Meredith College Junior, has been appointed by Pres. E. Bruce Heilman as Meredith's representative to the Raleigh Community Relations Committee.

When asked about her feelings on being appointed, Jane replied, "I don't know what to say about the committee since I have not attended a meeting yet, but I asked for the job, and I am looking forward to discovering just what a Community Relations Committee does and how it does it."

"I first became deeply interested in community relations — especially the black-white aspects — this summer while taking political science and modern fiction courses at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill," she says.

"My professors opened my eyes and made me see how blind I had been to the world around me."

"We read such books as the Autobiography of Malcolm X and Soul on Ice by Eldridge Cleaver, both of which I highly recommend to anyone who wishes to gain a new per-

The Lucas Hoving Dance Company, co-sponsored by the Meredith Concerts and Lectures Series and the Raleigh Civic Ballet, will appear here October 13 and 14.

Three appearances are scheduled by the dance group, one during chapel Monday, October 13, and evening performances both Monday and Tuesday.

Half of the auditorium is being reserved for each of the evening appearances (by Meredith). Students may obtain passes for these programs by seeing Libbo Leathers or Jane Holt. Faculty members are requested to see Dr. Lois Frazier in Hunter Hall for their passes. These passes are being supplied at no cost to members of the Meredith community. Extra tickets for dates or family may be obtained for $2.00 from students named above or Dr. Frazier.

Tickets for the rest of the auditorium seats are being sold to the Raleigh public by the Civic Ballet.

The dance company is under the direction of Lucas Hoving, a long-time associate with the Jose Limon Company. He is currently on the faculty of the Juilliard School and Columbia University Teachers College in New York. With his dancers, Hoving has toured in Europe, Canada and the United States.

Hoving's choreography has earned him grants by the Dutch Government and the U. S. National Endowment for the Arts.

The appearance of the dance group will take place in cooperation with the North Carolina Council of the Arts and the National Council for the Arts.

Kappa Nu Sigma Installation, Price Scholarships Awarded

Ayn Sullivan, a Meredith senior, has been elected for membership in Kappa Nu Sigma, a Meredith society which bases its membership on academic achievement.

Linda Haddock, Brooks McGirt and Paula Tudor Gilbert, tapped in to the society last spring as associate members, became full members at the annual spring meeting during Commencement weekend.

The announcement of Ayn's selection was made at an October 1 dinner meeting.

Officers elected at the meeting were Linda Haddock, president; Paula Tudor Gilbert, vice-president; Brooks McGirt, secretary; and Ayn Sullivan, treasurer.

Dr. Norma Rose will again serve as sponsor of the honor society this year.

Organized in 1923, Kappa Nu Sigma Honor Society promotes scholarship at Meredith. Membership of the organization is restricted to the top two percent of the senior class. Full membership is limited to seniors who are elected at the end of their junior or senior year.

Scholarship winners sponsored by the organization were announced at the fall meeting and at the society's fall chapel program Monday, at which Dr. Sally Horner spoke.

Sophomores Gilda Jeanne Hardy and Jeanne Jarman Brown were named as co-winners of the Helen Price Scholarship, named for the former sponsor and awarded to the freshman having the highest scholastic average in her class.

Suzanne Reynolds, a junior, was the winner of the Price Scholarship for sophomores.

The organization comprised of four student members and 14 faculty members discussed activities for the coming year at their October 1 business meeting held in Vann fac-
