

Meredith Receives $5,000 Gulf Grant

A capital grant of $5,000 has been received by Meredith College from the Gulf Oil Foundation.

The grant will be applied to the college's $5 million advancement program, said Dr. Heilman, after J. R. Timmerman, district sales manager of Gulf, presented him the check this week.

The $5,000 grant to Meredith is part of more than $3 million that Gulf will distribute this year to students and institutions of higher education for a variety of purposes.

The capital grant phase of the program is an effort to assist institutions in meeting anticipated growth requirements, to replace obsolete buildings and equipment and to expand services.

Institutions eligible for capital grants are those which are privately operated and controlled, and which obtain a major portion of their financial support from non-tax sources.

Cast Is Chosen For Fall Play

The cast for "Twelve Angry Women" has been announced by Miss Linda Solomon, instructor in speech and dramatics.

"Casting the play was a difficult job because there were so many talented girls seeking parts," remarked Miss Solomon.

Cathy Sink is cast as the guard. The foreman, a not overly bright, petty woman who is impressed with her own authority will be played by Debbie Liner. Patsy Brake will be the second juror, a meek hesitant woman with few opinions of her own.

The third juror, a strong sadistic woman who is intolerant of others' opinions will be played by Sandra Whatley. Kathy Densmore will be the fourth juror, an articulate wealthy woman who is appalled by the behavior of the others.

Carolyn Campbell will play a naive frightened young woman in the role of the fifth juror. The sixth juror is a dull-witted, easily swayed woman played by Beth Sanders.

Patricia Brewer, as the seventh juror, is loud, flashy and quick tempered. Alice Hill portrays a woman of great strength and compassion as the eighth juror.

The ninth juror, Beth Grumbine, is a gentle, defeated old woman. An antagonistic, bitter bigot of a woman is played by Cindy Huffling as the tenth juror.

Mona Blevins is a humble and ashamed refugee from Europe as the eleventh juror. The twelfth juror, portrayed by Kathy Johnston, is a superficial snob.

These twelve women are responsible for deciding the fate of a 19-year-old boy who is accused of stabbing his father to death.

Director for the production will be Miss Solomon. Jane Harris will serve as assistant director. The stage crew work will be done by the members of the Meredith Playhouse.

"I was thrilled and grateful for the enthusiastic group of 40 girls who tried out for 'Twelve Angry Women,'" said Miss Solomon. "I feel satisfied with my cast, and I am looking forward to a great success."

The play will be presented on November 16-17 at 8:00 p.m. in Jones Auditorium.

AROUND CAMPUS

Silver Shield

The Silver Shield held its annual convocation last Friday. Dr. Sarah Lemmon gave a brief history of the Silver Shield, and Dr. Roger Crook defined the purpose of the club.

Seniors Janet Bell and Suzanne Reynolds were then tapped into the club. Two Junior associate members, Ellen Barney and Margaret Person, were also inducted.

Lucktenbergs

Mr. and Mrs. George Lucktenberg are returning to the campus on Monday, October 19, for the final performance of the three-part Beethoven Sonata cycle. The violin-piano duo will present Op. 23, A Minor; Op. 24, F Major (Spring); and Op. 47, A Major (Kreutzer) at 8:00 p.m. in Jones Auditorium.

Those students who heard the first two parts of the program will want to hear the last portion of the performance; those who did not now have the opportunity for hearing the Lucktenbergs' unusual combination of talents.

Gaylord Noyce to Speak

Gaylord Noyce, Dean of Students, Yale Divinity School, and School of Christian Studies lecturer, will speak on October 16 at 10 a.m. in Jones Auditorium.

School of Christian Studies: Gaylord Noyce will lecture at 4 and 8 p.m. in Jones Auditorium. The public is invited to participate.

MCA Forums

The MCA Forums Committee of Meredith College will sponsor a week of lectures and symposiums, beginning November 2, on contemporary issues facing college students.

Some issues of interest will be sex standards, drug abuse and abortion. Among the guest speakers will be Attorney General Robert Morgan, and others who are well informed in the areas to be discussed. On Wednesday, November 4, there will be a discussion of the politics of youth and moral values.

Three Professors Honored

Three members of the Meredith faculty have been selected to appear in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Educators of America.

Dr. Roger H. Crook, chairman of the department of religion, received his degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and has been a member of the Meredith faculty since 1949.

Dr. Sarah Lemmon, chairman of the history department, received her Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. She has served on the faculty since 1947.

The third professor selected for the publication is Dr. Leslie W. Syron, chairman of the sociology department. Dr. Syron, who has been at Meredith since 1945, also received her Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina.

Anyone who is interested in being nominated for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is asked to meet with Dr. L. A. Peacock in Joyner lounge at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, October 21.
