Seventeen Seniors Selected For Collegiate Who's Who List

Seventeen Meredith College seniors have been elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Members of the senior class nominated students for the honor, and faculty members voted on the nominees. The quota for Meredith this year was twenty-two students, and seventeen of the places were filled. The students listed below are now members of Who's Who.

Bonnie Sue Barber, a Meredith Honor Scholar, is a member of the Ensemble, Silver Shield, and is presently serving as chairman of the Meredith Student Foundation.

Lynda Frances Bell, presently serving as chairman of the Student Activities Board, is a member of Silver Shield. Lynda has served as president of Poteat dormitory and as vice-president of the Astrotekton Society.

Jean Jarman Brown, presently serving as chairman of the Interdormitory Board, is a member of Silver Shield and Kappa Nu Sigma. Jean has also served on the Legislative and Judicial Boards.

Her sophomore year, Sandra Kay Clemmons served as secretary of the Meredith Christian Association. A member of the Ensemble, Sandra is presently serving as special projects chairman of the Student Activities Board and as vice-president of Sigma Alpha Iota musical fraternity. Carmen Elaine Dawkins is now serving as chairman of Elections Board and Handbook Editor. She has served as social chairman and program chairman of Sigma Alpha Iota musical fraternity, and as Astrotekton first vice-president.

Secretary of her freshman class and president of her sophomore class, Penelope Lee Gallins is also a member of Silver Shield. Past president of Stringfield dormitory, Penny is presently serving as executive vice-president of the Student Government Association.

Now serving as Meredith Christian Association president is Betty Anne Haskins. A member of Silver Shield, Betty Anne has also served as Sigma Alpha Iota vice-president and as a member of the Cultural Affairs Committee. She is a Meredith Honor Scholar.

Patricia Elaine Johnson, a member of the Ensemble, served as treasurer of the Meredith Christian Association and as social chairman and chaplain of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Patsy, who is now vice-president of Silver Shield, also served as a Phi marshal.

Student Government Association President Gail Knieriem also served as president of her freshman class. A member of Silver Shield, Gail has served as secretary of the Legislative Board.

Senior Class President Carol Ann McLaney is a member of the Student Life Committee. Carol Ann also served as corn huskin co-chairman her junior year.

Jennifer Mary Seykora is a member of Silver Shield. Jenny has also served as corn huskin chairman, junior class president, and is presently serving as chairman of the Judicial Board.

Mary Jo Sheridan is a member of Kappa Nu Sigma. She served as Student Government Association treasurer her junior year and is currently a member of the Curriculum Committee.

Now serving as president of the Meredith Recreation Association, Margaret Louise Person has also served as treasurer and vice-president of this organization. Margaret is secretary-treasurer of Silver Shield and a member of the Student Life Committee.

Carol Susan Swarr, Chief Student Advisor, served as a freshman hall proctor her junior year. Carol is presently a member of the Meredith College Student Foundation.

A member of the Ensemble and Sigma Alpha Iota honorary music fraternity, Elizabeth Marguarite Triplett is now serving as chairman of the Legislative Board. She is also a member of Silver Shield.

Mrs. Ellen Barney Williams is president of Silver Shield. Ellen has also served as secretary of the Judicial Board and is a member of the

Interested in NC-PIRG? Join Up!

Students should be involved with the community. This is what John Pfefferkorn emphasized as he addressed students at convocation last Friday. John is coordinator of NCSU of the newly formed North Carolina Public Interest Research Group.

NC-PIRG, according to the model statement of purpose, "will undertake to identify and evaluate issues involving public policy decisions, including social planning, institutional regulation and control, and matters of individual rights which affect substantial numbers of people."

The group has no formal ties with the Ralph Nader organization, although their major goals are similar. Mr. Nader's appearance on the State campus two weeks ago was to lend support to the budding project in North Carolina.

To confront such issues as environmental pollution, consumer fraud, sex discrimination, and landlord-tenant relations, NCPIRG will

Young Democrats Club Plans Convention Trip

The Meredith YDC will send delegates to the statewide YDC convention in Greensboro on October 29. The purpose of the convention is to elect state officers for the College Federation (the college part of the YDC) as well as for the whole YDC.

Persons involved in the YDC are, officially, people under 35, and the statewide meeting organizes the local clubs for the coming year. Besides the election of officers, the convention will hold caucuses for the formation of policy statements, resolutions, committees, and lobbying forces.

An unlimited amount of delegates may be sent to the convention if expenses are paid. All interested persons should contact Mary Ann Tadlock or other YDC members.

Ensemble and Sigma Alpha Iota.

President of non-resident students is Gail Anne Knapp. Gail is a charter member of the Honorary Math Club, and currently serves as its treasurer.

be established a full time of professionals (lawyers, scientist, teachers, economists, etc.) to work in conjunction with students. They will direct student and faculty research into problem areas, as well as undertaking investigation, public education, and lobbying.

Organizationally, NCPIRG will consist of a state board of representatives from each member campus directing the activities of the local boards. The local boards will mobilize campus resources to work on the priorities designated by the state board. By working with NCPIRG students have the opportunity to relate to the community outside of the classroom.

The proposed source of funds concentrates primarily on an additional fee of $1.50 per student per semester, with a provision for refunding at the student's request. Permission for such a fee must be granted by the Board of Trustees at the institution. The immediate focus of NCPIRG at State is a massive petitioning campaign to present the Board with evidence of substantial student support.

Two other PIRG's, at Oregon State and in Minnesota, are beginning to list accomplishments in the area of environmental controls. It took approximately a year for these groups to effectively organize.

If any students are interested in getting involved with a group that has the potential of being an effective voice for the public interest they should contact John Pfefferkorn, 755-2451 or Gary Hinson, 832-8560.

Fifteen Students Plan French Trip

This May, 15 Meredith students will travel to Europe for a summer-study abroad program. The program, initiated last year by Dr. Katylin Galligan, was received with enthusiasm and achieved such success that it is being repeated this year.

The program is based on independent study. Three to six credits can be earned according to the individual academic needs of the students. Three credits come from a study of contemporary French theater. To earn the credits, students will be required to read several French plays before departing for Paris and write a paper; and while in France to attend several plays.

The other three credits can be earned through independent study. The area of concentration will vary with the individual. Some girls will study French architecture while others will concentrate on various French artists.

While the mainstream of study is done before leaving the states, the participants are required to do some work in France. However, the program emphasizes the absence of limitations; the girls can be exposed to the culture and the language through their own self-directed experiences.

The group will visit several places in France. The itinerary includes 8 days in the French Riviera, 3 weeks in Paris, 4 days touring Provence, and, if desired, the girls may stay an extra week in London or Germany. Dr. Galligan has arranged accommodations at luxurious hotels at reasonable costs.

Thirteen girls have signed to participate in the program, leaving only two vacancies.

'72-73 Calendar Changes Noted

The Instruction Committee, composed of faculty members, administrative representatives, and students, has discussed and approved several calendar changes for the coming school year.

The following is taken directly from the notes of the committee meeting of September 8, 1970. After general discussion of the 1972 summer school calendar, the following changes were agreed to without dissent:

1. Tuesday, July 4 would be changed from a regular class day to a school holiday.

2. In order to make up for the class day lost on July 4 and to increase the number of class days to 28 (to be equivalent to the number of class days in the fall semester), two class days were added. The two additional class days would be Saturday, July 8 and Monday, July 10.

3. Exam day was changed from Saturday, July 8 to Tuesday, July 11. The later exam date would still enable students to attend the second summer school sessions at either NCSUS or UNC-CH. The revised summer school calendar for 1972 was unanimously approved.

The committee unanimously decided to make Tuesday, November 7, a class holiday to enable and encourage students to participate in the national elections. The revised calendar for fall semester 1972 would contain 42 MWF class days and 28 T THS class days.

The revised fall semester calendar and spring semester calendar were approved.

The committee was also in informal agreement that an October holiday would be desirable. The committee indicated that it would be willing to extend the exam period by two days in order to obtain an October holiday if the Academic-Administrative Council proposed such a change. The committee also suggested if a reduction in the length of the exam period was recommended by the ad hoc committee reviewing the exam schedule, then an October holiday should be added rather than beginning Christmas holidays earlier.

On this day—not tomorrow. Fight for a principle, Express your gratitude, overcome an old fear, take two minutes to appreciate the beauty of nature.
