

Warriors Selected

Coach George Chrest announced the members of the '76-'77 Rainbow Warriors, the Meredith swim team. They are Jennie Brooks, Sandra Bucy, Beth Carlton, Susie Cecil, Pat Harris, Leslie Landis, Laurie Rodberg, Carol Webb, and Cindy Whitenack.

Co captains are Beth Carlton, Susie Cecil, and Carol Webb.

The Rainbow Warriors will begin their season with a tri-meet November 2 between Duke, St. Mary's and Meredith at Duke at 5 p.m.

Chrest predicts good competition with the bigger schools such as Duke, University of Charleston, Appalachian State U. and Clemson.

These teams "will make hard going," Chrest said. "Nonetheless, we expect Meredith's first winning season in the swim pool."

Tough competitors, Chrest said, will be UNC-Chapel Hill, with Ann Marshall, a former Olympic swimmer, and 30 or more Olympic tryout swimmers.

TIP IT OVER!

Vann placed first in volleyball intramurals last week, with Heilman coming in second.

Volleyball was the first of several activities which will be scheduled by the MRA throughout the year to give the student body a break from studying.

Job Prospects Slim for Women

Although there is some encouragement in the fact that undergraduate women received 27 percent more job offers than they did a year ago, the figures are deceiving.

Women still only receive 16 percent of the total number of jobs offered by a large number of employers to bachelor's degree candidates, male and female.

On the master's level, the figures are worse--women received only 15 percent of the total job offers. The figures are from the College Placement Council, who also report that job offers are down by 16 percent overall for all bachelor's degree candidates.

According to the report, men are receiving 20 percent fewer job offers than last year. At the master's level, women have had 36 percent more offers than in March 1975, while men have had 13 percent fewer. The number of positions available to doctoral degree candidates, male and female, is off by 32 percent.

Students graduating with degrees in humanities and social sciences are experiencing the greatest decline in job offers (26 percent) since March 1975.
