On Tour

Grealish and Snow

by Kelley Stone

From February 18 until February 29, Meredith will host Jeanne Grealish and Jane Snow in a two-week residency featuring recitals, lectures, and individual conferences.

Miss Grealish, mezzo-soprano, has received "international recognition for her oratorio and operatic performances as well as her solo recitals." She has been soloist with groups in Europe as well as in the United States. Her background includes training with the New England Conservatory, the Vienna Academy, and the Vienna State Opera. Besides singing, she has done "musicological research in vocal music and has translated much related German literature."

For all recitals and lecture-recitals, Miss Grealish is accompanied by Jane Snow, another extraordinary musician who is a singer, opera producer, and voice teacher. Miss Snow was trained at the Cincinnati College-Conservatory and the Julliard School of Music, and has done advanced work in Rome and Vienna. She has served for many years as head of the voice department at the University of New Mexico. Miss Snow and Miss Grealish work together in the presentation of Master Classes for singers and accompanists.

At Meredith, Miss Grealish and Miss Snow will give master classes, lectures, and open rehearsals through the Music Department. They will be working with the Meredith Chorale in preparation for its performance at the Founders' Day Convocation on February 22. On Thursday, February 28 at 8:00 p.m., Miss Grealish and Miss Snow will be performing in guest recital in Carswell Hall. The entire student body is encouraged to attend this special event.

'Alice in Wonderland' - Guess who?

'Gamma Rays'

Information Services

"The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," a play by Paul Zindel, will be presented at Meredith College at 8 p.m., Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 14, 15, and 16 in Jones Auditorium. Admission is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. Tickets will be sold at the door.

In 1970, "Gamma Rays" won best off-Broadway drama. The play is about a mother whose dreams are fading and the influence she has on her two daughters.

For further information, contact the drama-speech office 833-6461, ext. 228, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

'Alice' coming

February 27 has been set as the date for the presentation of Alice in Wonderland. One of Meredith's more popular traditions, Alice in Wonderland is presented once every college generation by the faculty and administration.

Inquiries failed to persuade faculty members to divulge the names of the cast. According to a well-known member of the administration staff, half the fun of seeing Alice in Wonderland is trying to guess who is playing which part.

This traditional play, for which the faculty does all the staging and acting, has been seen by Meredith students since 1924 when it was first presented. Mrs. Gertrude Royster, director of physical education, began the tradition and directed the first five performances. Miss Ida Poteat, long-time head of the Art Department, planned the costumes for the first production.

The production is presented for the entertainment of the students and is open to the entire student body.

Scholarships and Summer Jobs

There are a number of summer ministry opportunities available through the Baptist State Convention. One of these opportunities is called "Youth Corps" which is a ten week summer ministry program in local churches. The program is designed to: (1) develop young adults for a church related vocation or lay leadership role in Baptist churches; (2) assist the local church in strengthening its ministries.

The student will serve for 10 weeks under the direction of the local pastor and can be assigned to work in special programs, such as music, recreation, youth activities, children's activities, etc., or to assist in the total ministry of the church. Salary ($90 per week--$900 for the summer, minimum--with room and board provided by the local church plus travel expenses.)

Stop by the Campus Ministry office for an application. Meredith has a quota of 12 persons who can be hired. So far we have only 5 applicants. Interviews will begin soon. The deadline has been extended for a short time in February but applicants must apply immediately.

The Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund offers scholarships for the 1980-81 school year of up to $1,500 each to students with southern backgrounds who have completed at least two years of college. Jack Tarver, chairman of the Scholarship Fund said.

Tarver said May 1st is the deadline for applications. He said a number of scholarships are awarded each year to students who have demonstrated a long-time interest in the news and editorial phase of newspapering.

Scholarships, he said, are limited to those young men and women whose roots lie in the South. Applicants must also convince the Awards Committee that they firmly intend to pursue a career in daily or weekly newspapering. Tarver said the Awards Committee wants to give scholarships to those who are likely to become leaders in the newspaper field.

Successful applicants will be required to maintain a "B" average in order to keep the scholarship.

A letter of not more than 500 words telling why the applicant wants a scholarship, together with a photograph of the applicant, must accompany each application. Applicants also must have a letter of recommendation from a college authority.

Application blanks may be obtained from: The Ralph McGill Scholarship Fund; Box 4689; Atlanta, Georgia 30302.

Educational Testing Service

PRINCETON, N.J. - Applicants to law schools are advised that delays in delivery of a new computer system have resulted in a backlog of Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS) reports to law schools. Law schools have been made aware of the problem through frequent updating on the status of the processing schedule.

Although law school admission offices may be somewhat slowed in making their decisions, students can be assured that fairness will be paramount, and no individuals will be penalized for late reporting delays incurred by the LSDAS.

Because of the backlog, it is estimated that, at the current processing rate, there will be delays for about the next eight weeks. Staff have been greatly expanded and are working long hours to meet these problems. Educational Testing Service (ETS), which administers the LSDAS, regrets any personal inconvenience to candidates.

The LSDAS was begun in 1970 at the request of the law school. Its purpose is to summarize information from college transcripts, test scores from the Law School Admission Test and other biographical information used for evaluation by the law school admission offices.

If there are specific problems that cannot wait, please write to Law Programs, Newton, Pa. 18940. Please do not telephone.

Meredith College will offer a three-month post-baccalaureate legal assistants program beginning May 1980 through the Office of Continuing Education and Special Programs.

The program will be directed by Emily P. Johnson, formerly of Greenville. Miss Johnson, a Meredith alumna, received the J.D. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"To the best of our knowledge, this is the only post-baccalaureate legal assistants program between Philadelphia and Atlanta," Dr. Sarah M. Lemmon, Dean of the Office of Continuing Education and Special Programs at Meredith said. "We believe that we are meeting a definite need for career women interested in law but not interested in attending law school at this time," she said.

Miss Johnson spent the fall of 1979 developing the curriculum and staff of the program. Applications for the first class, which will be limited to 30 women, have been accepted since January 1. Only women with baccalaureate degrees are being considered for entry.

For further information or applications, contact Miss Emily P. Johnson, Director, Legal Assistants Program, Meredith College, Raleigh, North Carolina 27611; phone: (919) 833-6461, ext. 434.
