Meredith has scheduled a variety of activities to celebrate Parents' Weekend Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7, when the parents visit the campus. "Meredith's Family Reunion: A Southern Tradition" is the theme of the event.

Highlighting Saturday's activities will be a banquet at 6 p.m. in Belk Dining Hall and a dance featuring the Al Oranger Quintet playing swing and beach music in Weatherspoon Gymnasium from 8:30-11 p.m. Worship services will be held in the Christina and Seby Jones Chapel at 9 and 10:30 a.m. and a picnic lunch will be held in the courtyard at 11:30 a.m. on Sunday. Following lunch, parents will have the opportunity to see the Meredith production of "The King and I" at 1 p.m. in Jones

Burns Speaks

by Lori Cowan

Norma Burns, architect and president of Workspace, Inc., a design and furniture company for corporations, spoke Tuesday, Oct. 5 in a Delta Mu Delta sponsored meeting.

In a very interesting talk, she spoke about owning a small business and the extensive preparation it takes to finance, research, and prepare facilities before the doors can even be opened. In addition, she discussed her relations with her different partners and suggested that the best partners are those who can specialize in different areas of the business.

Addressing her talk specifically to women, Ms.

Burns pointed out that most women have been taught to want to be liked, a desire she considers a liability in the business world. She advised her audience to, instead, win the respect of others; the objective of a business person is not making friends but establishing cordial working relationships out of which friendships may eventually grow. She also advised would-be professionals to read periodicals in their field and join professional organizations.

Directing her speech to Meredith women, Ms. Burns said she hopes more women will consider going into business for themselves.

ASPA Meets

ASPA's last meeting focused on preparing for an interview and featured a film on what to do in an interview.

Alison Foust named the winners of the Merit Awards which are obtainable on a point basis. Points can be gained by arranging company tours, inviting members of the parent chapter to speak at meetings, and doing special projects. Barbara Mutschler from the Office of Career Services suggested that ASPA co-sponsor this year's Career Day.

ASPA, the American Society for Personnel Administration, is a nationwide organization with chapters all over the country. Meredith's student chapter members receive the monthly Personnel Administrator magazine and bulletins updating them on personnel activities nationwide.

ASPA meetings, which are held once a month, feature business men and women from the Raleigh area involved in personnel administration. Chapter members will also be speaking on personnel administration in the future.

This club is open to anyone who is interested in getting a greater insight into the field of personnel. If you would like to join, contact Alison Foust at 828-5211.

The next meeting will be held November 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the Brown Conference Room in the Harris Building.
