

Open days held for prospective students

Prospective students frequently find that talking with enrolled students is their best method of learning about the College. To assist them in learning about Meredith, the Office of Admissions hosts a series of Open Days to invite high school seniors to spend a full day on campus.

Open Days 1983-84 are planned for November 16 and February 2. Student visitors will have the chance to attend an 11:00 a.m. class, have lunch in the dining room, hear from enrolled freshmen about their experiences during an information session, and tour the campus. If parents accompany the students, there is an information session planned for them as well as lunch on campus and a tour.

Some enrolled students at Meredith will be requested to serve as class hostesses or tour guides for the visitors, but all enrolled students will be influencing the impression guests have of the College. The classroom atmosphere will be especially important since for many prospective students the class visit is their only exposure to the academic program. The welcome the faculty and enrolled students extend at the opening of class, then the level of academic experience and participation play an important part in the visitor's opinion of the quality of the program here.

If you have high school senior friends who might be interested in attending an Open Day, please contact the Office of Admissions for information on registration. In April, 1984, there will be a Visitation Day for high school juniors also sponsored by the admissions office.

What is KC '83?

Many of you have probably asked this question as you walk by all the numerous types of publicity on campus. Well, it's not a radio station or a freshman running for an office or a senior Cornhuskin' gimmick or even Kick Carolina in '83. These are good guesses, however they are all incorrect.

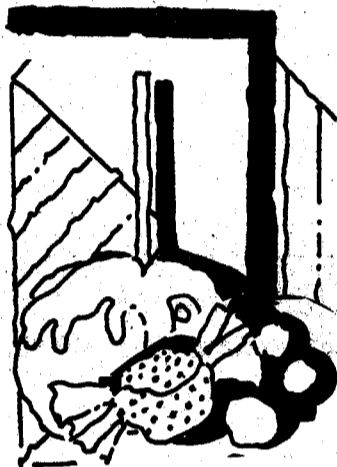

KC 83 is - A once-in-a-college-career experience for an expected 25,000 college students from across the nation. You can be one of them! This is a conference, sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ, in Kansas City, Missouri. Featured speakers are Billy Graham, Josh McDowell, Elizabeth Elliott, Bill Bright and Crawford Loritts.

There will be seminars on relating to parents, gaining a biblical perspective on sex, love and dating, setting life objectives, being a leader in the 80's and praying powerfully. Also, special entertainment will be Sandi Patti, 1982 female vocalist of the year. She's recorded four albums and has been described as a "powerful, vivacious performer who shares from her heart the love of God and the joy of living as Jesus taught us to live."

This conference is during Christmas Break Dec. 27, 1983 - Jan. 1, 1984. Transportation is being provided from Raleigh. Anyone interested or just want more information call Becky or Anne at 828-3257.

ASPA hears Rick Mark

The student chapter of ASPA met on October 19th at 7:00 p.m. in Brown Conference Room. Mr. Rick Mark, personnel manager for Allied Corporation, presented an interesting summary of the different levels of personnel management.

The next ASPA meeting will be at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 16 in Brown Conference Room. A panel of personnel representatives will lead the discussion and information will be given on an ASPA graduate scholarship of $5000. Students interested in being a member of ASPA are still welcome to join.

WANTED: People to help on Tuesday nights with TWIG layout. Pay reasonable. For more info, call Linda at 828-2079 or Amy at 828-4360.

used to the laws and external controls. "We feel education and enforcement of existing laws are the answers, not singling out college students as being too irresponsible to drink."

Gonzalez, however, contends much of the effort to control alcohol abuse and noisy campus parties is coming from students themselves. "I think young people are realizing that we have a problem common to all of us, and that there are things they can do to help."
