ASPA: The Place To Be

by Mary Mills
ASPA President

Are you looking for a fantastic student organization to join? Then be a part of ASPA, the American Society for Personnel Administration. ASPA is a nationwide professional organization which gives students the opportunity to learn more about the field of personnel and industrial relations. Membership is open to anyone who is interested, whether you are a Business major or not.

Meetings are held once a month and feature guest speakers involved in personnel administration. The first meeting of the year will be Wednesday, September 4 at 7:00 p.m. in the Chapel Commons Room. This will be an important organizational meeting to elect officers and start a membership roster. Hope to see you there.

Media Services

NEW MEDIA SPECIALIST AT MEREDITH

John Kincheloe has just arrived here from the University of Virginia to take the newly created position of Media Specialist. He brings with him not only media experience, but a broad liberal arts background as well. His undergraduate degree is from the University of Richmond where former President, E. Bruce Heilman, is now president. John has done graduate work at Duke University and holds a Masters Degree from the University of Virginia. His work as an artist was recently featured in a nationally broadcast PBS documentary entitled, "Living Double Lives." John's office is in the library, on the ground level (x8531). He's a valuable, creative resource to you. Get to know him soon.

V-STARS CEILING-MOUNTED

There are now two V-Star Television Projectors at Meredith — one in Cate Auditorium and another in the Library's Projection Room. These projectors are now permanently ceiling-mounted. Those who have not seen what a V-Star can do should give John Kincheloe a call at x8531. And those who have been disappointed in the past with the portable unit will be amazed at the improvement a few adjustments have made - take a second look at the V-Stars. Video television projection and computer interfacing are exciting resources for classes, symposia and meetings. Ask us about workshops and demonstrations. It's your equipment.

VIDEO STATIONS IN LIBRARY

Two video viewing stations are now set up on the Main Floor of the library. This could be a valuable extension of your classroom. Assigned viewing can be as important as assigned reading. Consider some possibilities:

- Place a videotaped lecture on reserve for viewing-reviewing.
- Assign a film as a part of your class
- Visually convey the techniques of your discipline—interviewing, teaching, running, etc.
- Record student presentations to place on reserve

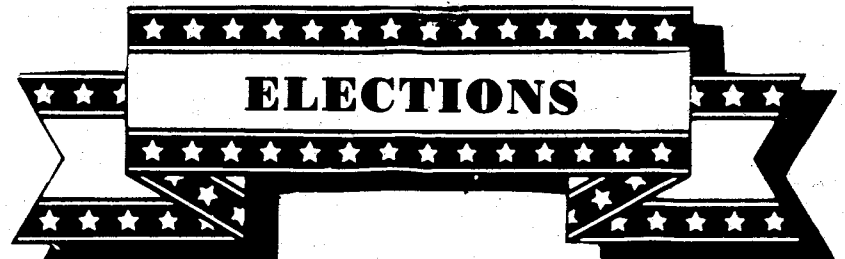

The viewing stations are designed to be used with headphones which are checked out at the Circulation Desk. Videocassettes can be placed on reserve in a matter of minutes. As many as four headphones can be plugged into each video station. Take a look at this setup soon and tell John Kincheloe what you want to do. If it's possible, he'll do it. If it's impossible, he'll try anyway.

HOW TO RESERVE AND CHECK OUT EQUIPMENT

Sign up for A-V Rooms and equipment early! Reservations are taken between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday in the library. There is so much demand for A-V equipment, if you wait until the last minute, you may not get what you need. Use our reservation form to reserve any of the 16mm-, overhead-, or filmstrip projectors, three-fourths inch or one-half inch video equipment or tape recorders we loan. (A complete list of A-V hardware is available.) The equipment is normally held for you at the library circulation desk where it should also be returned.

BETA?

Statistics show that Beta video format is continuing to lose the war with VHS for control of the video market. Beta, however, is in many ways a desirable, even superior, format. But 70 — 80 percent of the video industry is now involved with the popular VHS format, and this figure is rising. Media Services will be working mainly with VHS format because of the wide range of relatively inexpensive software available. And unlike Beta, the future of VHS is expanding rapidly. A number of faculty will want to use Beta format material, though, so Media Services is in the process of acquiring a Beta player. It should be available soon. We will then have VHS, three-fourths inch and Beta capabilities. International standard equipment (for PAL and SECAM) is a further possibility if there is sufficient demand for non-U.S. programming. Convey any interest in this to John.

Stay Put or Pay

Students may not move from one room to another without permission from Coordinator of Housing.

Students may change rooms without charge during the third through sixth week of each semester and between semesters. A room change at any other time is subject to a $20 processing fee.

The College reserves the right to move a student to a different room if a reassignment is deemed appropriate by the Coordinator of Housing and the Dean of Students.

If a student wishes to change her room or roommate, it is requested that she wait until two weeks after classes start. In order to make room changes, first make arrangements with other student students involved; second, obtain a room change form from your residence director; third, complete the room change and take it to the residence director or resident assistant and the Coordinator of Housing for their signatures; fourth, follow the proper check-in check-out procedures as outlined on page 32; fifth, move.
