

COMING ATTRACTIONS

MONDAY

23 Jr. Class Meeting 10am
Freshman Seminar 10am
Sophomore Class Meeting 10am 103 Joyner

----- Flag Football Intramurals -----
Order Class Rings

TUESDAY

24

WEDNESDAY

25 Worship 10am CH
MC vs. St. Mary's
Home Tennis 2:30pm
Placement Workshop
Seminar 4pm KA
Super Bowl III-Flag-
Football Championship
5pm Courtyard

THURSDAY

26

FRIDAY

27 10:00 a.m.
ABA Meeting
Blue Parlor

10:00 a.m.
TWIG Staff Meeting

----- Tennis Invitational Home -----
----- Fall Baptist Student Convention-Ridgecrest -----

SATURDAY

28

SUNDAY

29

NACA Convention
Charleston, SC -----

ENDANGERED SPECIES

[Continued from page 1]

enrichment that she receives from going to a Baptist school. Jennifer Hubbard, a junior, likes going to Meredith because she likes to get up five minutes before classes start and not having to put on make-up.

Womens' colleges are not for everyone, of course. You have to be willing to adhere to the stringent rules of a women's college to succeed. The curfews, no men in dorms, no alcohol are a few of these rules that some people would not be able to handle. Discipline must be a quality of a Meredith student, and if you don't have it, you will develop it. Discipline is a must to succeed in "the real world." Yes, you do have to be a special person to be a Meredith Angel.

Straight Up With
Steven The Bartender

Steven J. Austin
Copyright 1985

DEAR STEVEN:

Like every other TV viewer, I see the ads for ridiculously low prices for diamond jewelry. You know the ones I'm talking about: "Send $19.95 before midnight and receive this genuine ladies' cocktail ring from our exclusive collection." Well, I just want to tell your readers that they'd be making a big mistake by sending in their money. I did, and received a ring that made a bubble gum machine trinket look like the real thing. You get what you pay for. Too bad some of us never learn.

— LAST TIME SUCKER

LAST:

Thanks for the info. Many of the ads try to impress viewers by claiming their rings contain a certain amount of 'points' worth of diamonds: .25 points, for example. Well, there are 100 points in a carat, so .25 pts. is equal to 1-400th of a carat. Tiny? No. Almost invisible is more like it.

STEVEN: My parents often make the mistake of calling my fiance, Jay by my boyfriend's name, Richard. I can understand their confusion to some degree, as they're quite elderly and often get the names of their own children and grandchildren mixed up. But Jay is fed up with them, and I can't say that I blame him. He won't say anything because he's afraid of hurting their feelings, so he's beginning to take out his frustrations on me. This is not a life or death situation, but I'd like to take care of it. Any suggestions?

— NAME IT, I'LL TRY IT

NAME:

He won't be out of line if he politely corrects them each time they make a mistake. You can do your part by using his name whenever possible. Go a little overboard with it if you have to. As for his getting upset with you, I'd set him straight immediately. There's no excuse for it. Good luck.

DEAR STEVEN:

My boyfriend loves to look at other women. He'll say things about them, too, and that's what upsets me. He'll comment on their pretty legs and hair, and on occasion has even gone up to one to say how great he thinks she looks. Is that normal for an 18-year-old guy? If not, what should I do about it?

— LOSING PATIENCE IN INDIANA

LOSING:

Looking is normal. You check out the guys, I'm sure. But leaving you in the dust while he makes his personal feelings known to a total stranger is uncalled for. Most women, I would assume, wouldn't think of putting up with such behavior. You have every right to be upset. Since giving him a dose of his own medicine probably wouldn't do any good, putting the relationship on hold until he grows up might be the smart move. Discuss it, and if he doesn't seem to care about your feelings, say goodbye.

Watch for

- Superbowl III, Flag Football Championship, Sept. 25
- NCSU vs. Furman (home)
- Order Class Rings, Sept. 23, 25, Bookstore.

Put Your Best Foot Forward with 4th Barefoot

Play your best and you'll put them to the test!

LET'S GO FOURTH BARE!

Flag Football Intramural Championship

4th Barefoot vs. 2nd Heilman

Johnson Laundry and Cleaners

Ridgewood Shopping Center

Save 10 percent
on dry cleaning

Be sure to say you are from Meredith