Santa pays a visit during holiday dinner

by Allison Hodges

It's beginning to look alot like Christmas here at Meredith College. Last Tuesday, December 4, students attended Meredith's annual holiday dinner in Belk Dining Hall. To help bring in the holiday season many wore festive clothes, Christmas sweaters, dresses and skirts decorated with colors of green red and gold. In addition, Santa Claus himself made a special appearance, passing out candy canes to all the girls who posed for a photograph with him.

Students were welcomed to the event by President John E. Weems, who wished everyone a happy holiday season. Invocation was presented by Tracy Baldwin, president of Meredith Christian Association.

Laura Peedin, president of Residence Hall Board, announced the winners of the hall decorating contest. First place was awarded to second floor Barefoot, second place honors went to fourth floor Brewer, and third place was second floor Vann.

Students were entertained throughout the dinner by pianist Amanda Moore who played traditional Christmas melodies. Meredith's vocal ensemble made a special appearance to sing such songs as "Silent Night," "Winter Wonderland" and "I'll Be Home For Christmas."

The Christmas dinner was a perfect opportunity to get together with friends, share memories of past holidays, sing carols, and take part in a traditional holiday celebration.

Santa checks his list and finds four good Angels.

Meredith basketball has gotten off to a winning start this season. Under the direction of coach Carl Hatchell the team has won all of their seven games so far this season.

Their most recent victory against Averett College was a home game last Wednesday, December 5 at 7:00pm.

Starting with the tip-off, Meredith dominated the entire game in both defensive and offensive situations. The Angels scored the first two points of the game and went on to lead at the half with a 9 point lead.

Throughout the second half Averett's team struggled with their defense. The Angels were always ready for Averett's missed rebounds and the score continued in Meredith's favor, finally whomping Averett College with an impressive score of 72-43.

The Angels have made this season so exciting and they truly need your support, so come on out to the games and bring a friend. The next scheduled home game is January 19 against Lynchburg College.

Mailbag project a success

The members of SGA want to thank all of the students, faculty and administrators who participated in mailing Christmas cards to the service people in Saudia Arabia. A big thank-you also to the Residence Life staff who helped make this project a success. We collected 208 letters and 1 package.

Thanks to the Meredith community, many servicepeople will have a happier holiday!
