Is the Tomb Empty?

by Jamie Mullis

On Tuesday March 26 at 7:30pm, Dr. Gary Habermas will host "The Resurrection: Fact or Fiction?" This presentation is sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ, a student-led organization, in the Student Center Annex Theater of North Carolina State University. Rides begin at 7:00pm in front of Johnson Hall.

Lack of female entertainers at campus events

by Karen Nipper

Either Meredith College has an aversion to female entertainers, or there are just not enough female entertainers out there. Most, if not all, solo singers or DJs who have performed at Meredith functions have been male, although a few bands have had both male and female members.

Meredith Entertainment Association representatives say that MEA basically gives anyone who calls in a chance at a gig at Meredith, but that very few applicants are female. Is the entertainment world suffering from a lack of female participation? If so, why? Perhaps it is just the Raleigh area that is being deprived. Encourage female entertainers to visit Meredith as well as to "make it big!"

MEA Follies cure back-from-break blues

by Jody Clower

Got the back-from-break blues? If you do, Meredith Entertainment Association has a good reason why you should be happy to be back from all those grueling days of sun, sand and extra sleep.

Local talent from Meredith, State and Carolina entertain at the MEA "Madcap Follies" amateur talent night on Wednesday, April 17. Proceeds from this fun event will support two charities.

Hopefully, this event that will make you feel a lot better after that "Spring Break High" wears off. Classes aren't over yet, so we might as well enjoy ourselves while we're here? What better way than good fun, food, music and men?

Meredith Musicians to perform with Raleigh Symphony Orchestra

Five Meredith music majors are winners in the 7th Annual Student Concerto Audition and will perform with the Raleigh Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, April 14 at 3:00pm in Jones Auditorium. The performance is free and open to the public.

Performing will be Susan Wall, mezzo-soprano; Heidi Sue Williams, soprano; Alice Nell Jorgenson, piano; Michele Daughtry, piano; Heidi Ann Williams, piano.

Congratulations and best wishes for a stellar concert.
