

'God Say Amen' Coming to Meredith

Following a popular and successful tour of the United Kingdom, The English Shakespeare Company bring their first educational project to the Fletcher School of Performing Arts at Meredith College September 19-21. A group of five actors will be presenting GOD SAY AMEN together with a series of specially devised workshops, drawing on the many themes taken from THE WARS OF THE ROSES, Shakespeare's seven play history cycle - Richard II, Henry IV (parts I and II), Henry V, and Henry VI (in two parts). THE WARS OF THE ROSES visited the Chicago International Theatre Festival and the

Stamford Centre for the Arts and received press accolades from the NEW YORK TIMES: "makes Shakespeare the hottest ticket in the world theatre" and from NEWSWEEK: "This amazing company achieved the rare feat of making Shakespeare sound like the real inter-changes between real people while keeping the power and the glory of the poetry."

Just as original productions set the plays in a contemporary context to examine Shakespeare's inquiry into political behavior, GOD SAY

AMEN will aim to involve its audience in the current world situation through the connections with these prophetic plays. Every performance is different and the workshops are varied.

The workshops will be held in Jones Auditorium on Wednesday night at 8:00 pm and Saturday at 10:00 am and 2:00 pm. All interested teachers, students and theater lovers are invited to attend. This series of performances and classes are sponsored by The Fletcher School of Performing Arts. There is no charge but reservations are necessary. Please call Mary Beth Deaton at 890-6083.
