

Question of the Week:

Why did you originally choose to come to Meredith?

compiled by Jetson

Lisa Eise senior

"Because of their elementary education program, and it is close to home and a small school with individual attention."

Ginny Wilson sophomore

"Because it's a tradition in my family, and the people are very friendly. I like the atmosphere, and they have a good academic reputation."

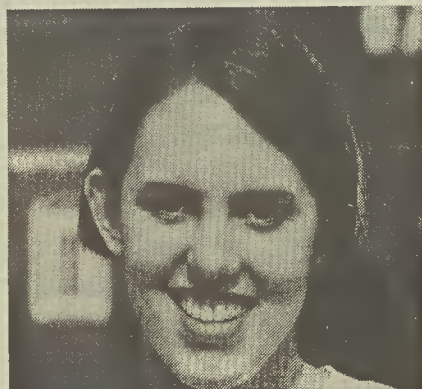

Nanette Rigda senior

"Because I wanted to come since 2nd grade, and I love the campus. I like the individual attention from professors; you are a name not a number."

Emily Fulghum freshman

"Because of the size and the academics. Meredith had exactly what I wanted to study."

Kennedy Pressly freshman

"I'm considering transferring because I found out that I would have to take twice as many courses here than at other schools."

Amanda Hamilton junior

"Because of the pretty campus, nice people, and small classes."

Angela Quinlivan junior

"Because of the small classroom sizes, personal relationships with faculty and more chances to get involved than at a larger institution."

Amy Wall sophomore

"Because I knew it had a good reputation for good education."
