Portrait:

"Miss Ida", as she was commonly known, designed our school seal in 1909 and the Meredith plate bears her signature. She was still working at Meredith on her 80th birthday, and she died the following year in 1940. Mary Tillery was a student/co-worker of the late Miss Poteat. To honor her mentor, Tillery painted her portrait. This portrait was later donated to the school by the Alumnae Association and hung in the first floor parlor of Poteat Hall. Today the faceless portrait is located in the security office.

School administrators took immediate action. Dean Cannon, Dr. Jean Jackson and Paula O'Briant were concerned for the safety of the five or six students still living in Poteat Hall. They decided that all guests, including parents, would be denied access to the dormitory until the orientation crew arrived on August 14th.

Measures were taken by security to implement the administration's rule. Although the residents of Poteat Hall complained, the ban on guests remained. No one is currently being held responsible for the vandalism and destruction of the portrait.

There was not enough evidence to openly accuse any person or group. However, it is believed by a few residents who were living in Poteat this summer that a Meredith student was partly, if not totally, responsible for the vandalism.

A month has passed, and the incident has been forgotten. Everytime suspects are allowed to strip away parts of our campus, a piece of our Honor Code has been stripped away also.

If you have any information regarding this matter, please contact Paula O'Briant, Dean Cannon, or Dr. Jean Jackson.

Future:

Continued from page one for qualified employees. This system will also allow students to hook up with employers through the Internet or Electronic Resume Books.

"We spent lots of time looking at Automated Placement Management systems, and we chose Resume Expert because it provides the very best service for our students," said Rebecca Highsmith, assistant director of the Career Center.

It is the most sophisticated system, but it is also user friendly.

Meredith College could be considered a pioneer in using the system, because the only other college in North Carolina that is using it is UNC Charlotte, said Highsmith.

All information from the Resume Expert Systems is customized for Meredith. Each senior will receive a disk and an instructional booklet which will be given out at Career Center Orientation.

The first step for the students will be to register on the disk, which includes typing facts such as the students' majors and minors, GPA and occupational interests.

Then the students will be able to type in their resumes.

They can change information on it anytime.

The Career Center will do the rest by matching up names of employers located in a separate data base to students interested in that certain occupational field. After the resumes are sent to the potential employers, the employers will contact the students they are interested in.

Career Center Orientations will begin on Aug. 31, at 5:30- 6:15 p.m. Other sessions will be held on Sept. 8, from 10- 10:45 a.m. and Sept. 13, 5:30- 6:15 p.m. in Kresge Auditorium in the Cate Center. A special Career Center Orientation for teaching candidates will take place in 106 Ledford on Sept. 22, from 1- 1:45 p.m. Resume Workshops will be located in 206 Harris on Sept. 7, at 5:30- 6:30 p.m. and Sept. 11, 15 and 22 at 10- 10:50 p.m. There will be a workshop in 101 Joyner on Sept. 20, from 5:30- 6:30 p.m. Students will receive help on how to do their resumes. Career Expert Help Labs will also be held in 206 Harris on Sept. 6, from 4- 5 p.m., Sept. 7, from 11 a.m. to 12 p.m., Sept. 21, from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., Sept. 12 and 18, from 3- 4 p.m., and Sept. 13 and 26, from 1- 2 p.m. One lab will be held in 101 Joyner on Sept. 11, at 5:30- 6:30 p.m.

Students can register for the resume workshops in the Career Center. Students do not need to register for orientation.
