

Editorial: Meredith creates sisterhood

It is the first week of November and we all know what that means - It's Cornhuskin' time.

Throughout this week, competition will brew within the Meredith campus gates.

Juniors and freshmen will team together as the juniors guide their new little sisters into new experiences.

Seniors and sophomores will work together to make their last Cornhuskin' together the most memorable one.

In the past, the competition between these classes has become quite intense, making the competition more like a fight rather than a friendly challenge.

Because this is the 50th Cornhuskin' Anniversary, I propose that all of the classes keep in mind what Meredith College is based on - sisterhood.

When the winners are announced late Friday night at the amphitheater, all of the freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors will still be bonded as students of Meredith College.

Because as sad as it may seem, we are all going to have to graduate from this angel farm that we call home and the only thing that will unify us physically in the working world is our Meredith College rings.

This summer I was approached in two unusual places because an alumna spotted my ring.

One was on the shore of Emerald Isle, North Carolina and the other was in a store in Soho, New York.

Funny thing is, it did not matter who won the Cornhuskin' competition when these alumnae were here.

All that matters is that we could relate to each other and feel the bond of sisterhood that this college creates.

Ghosts on campus... Aaaag!

by: Ginny Bonkemeyer

Late at night in Meredith's dorms have you ever heard creaking, moaning or rustling? Has a door ever moved? Have you seen mysterious lights? If so, don't be alarmed. Meredith has its share of ghosts on campus.

There are many ghost stories and rumors going around campus, but I was able to narrow it down to several stories. The most well-known haunt is 4th Brewer. According to rumor, a student hanged herself on 4th Brewer and haunts the hall to this day. Moaning fills the silence - though I'm told she stops if you ask her to - doors close, lights turn on and off and objects move.

Another story involves the ghost of Johnson Hall. This spook frightened a security guard years ago when he heard running and laughter, but could not find a source. After asking the "student" to come downstairs, the guard heard footsteps on the stairs and felt a hand on his shoulder. No one was there.

Though Chief Shattuck told me "Now, I don't believe in ghosts," he admitted that he had heard of a ghost in Jones auditorium, and that when he had to do rounds, he was uneasy.

My personal favorite Meredith ghost story is the tree-climbing ghost. There is apparently a ghostly apparition that is in the habit of scaling the tree behind Stringfield dorm and looking into students' windows. (Do you close your blinds at night?)

My loyalties will always remain with our little friend who came to be known as Casper in my 1st Vann bathroom last year.

Casper would move the bathroom door and cast shadowy lights around the bathroom at night, but he always kept us company. Meredith is filled with history, traditions and surprises - so watch out for things that go bump in the night!

Meredith Herald

Editor in Chief
Clarky Lucas

| | |
|-----------------------|--|
| Layout Editors..... | Ashley Peay, Kim Highland |
| Copy Editor..... | Ginny Bonkemeyer |
| Features Editor..... | Ariun Dixon |
| News Editor..... | Betsy Stewart |
| Business Manager..... | Lori Jones |
| Reporters..... | Beth Morris, Barbara Watts, Laura Brown, Sha Hargett, Alison Carter, Shannon Batts, Paige Layno, Robin Hollingsworth, Wendy Kelly, Sarah White, Deanna Griffin, Dina DiMato, Greta Wiesz, Kimberly Zucker |
| Photographers..... | Laura Ross, Tanya Rushing, Carolyn Chandley |
| Faculty Adviser..... | Louise Taylor |

Editorial Policy:

The Meredith Herald is published by the College throughout the academic year. The paper is funded by the College and through advertising. The opinions expressed in editorial columns do not necessarily reflect those of the college administration, faculty or student body.

Letters to the Editor Policy:

Everyone in the Meredith community is invited to write a letter to the editor. All published letters must be typewritten with contact name, address and telephone number. All letters must be signed by the author, but names will be withheld upon request.

The Herald reserves the right to place any other article submissions on file until needed or to choose not to print them.

Make a difference!
Be a paid volunteer in EPA air pollution studies.

Requirements: be a healthy,
nonsmoking,
individual age 18
to 65 with a
flexible scheduld.
Benefits: earn up
to $10/hr., a free
physical, and travel
expenses outside of Chapel Hill.

Call 966-0604.

Looking for a fun, fulfilling time to work for others in sunny Florida? MCA has the answer for you! We'll be going on our annual Spring Break Mission Trip with Habitat for Humanity in St. Petersburg, Florida! Dates for work will be March 11-14. "In the same way, your light must shine before men so that they may see goodness in your acts and give praise to your heavenly Father." Matthew 5:16

FREE TRIPS & CASH

Find out how hundreds of students are already earning FREE TRIPS and LOTS OF CASH with America's #1 Spring Break company! Sell only 15 trips and travel free! CALL NOW! TAKE A BREAK STUDENT TRAVEL (800) 95-BREAK!