

Trick or Treat at Haunted Hoe-Down

by Beth Morris

The "Haunted Hoe-Down" sponsored by MEA wasn't quite enough to wake the dead, according to several freshmen who attended the dance on Thursday, Oct. 26, even though the turn out was slightly over 100.

When asked about the dance, one freshman (who requested to remain anonymous) said, "If you like dancing with your roommate it's a fun place to be."

Jessica Ezzell, a senior, held a slightly different opinion. She said that she was "having a great time" and she was "very impressed with the organization, decorations and the effort most members made to dress up."

Dorothy Livsay and Katie "Bug" Outten were the two co-chairs in charge of organizing the "Haunted Hoe-Down." According to the co-chairs, MEA invited fraternities and dorms from NCSU, UNC and Duke in an attempt to increase the ratio of males to females at the on-campus event. Livsay felt that the turnout in general was "good for a world series night."

Scott Russell, a second year student at Southeast Baptist Seminary, was among the small group of men who showed up for the dance. Russel seemed impressed with his first Meredith event even though he said it "definitely needed more guys" and it "took [him] a while to get used to it."

Livsay and Outten began preparing four weeks ago. With the help of 20 MEA members and Cheryl Jenkins, MEA advisor, the gym was decorated with orange, black and white balloons and streamers. DJ Ronnie Williams cranked out a variety of tunes while bubbles galore whizzed about the gym. A strobe light was placed in the back of the gym—creating a psychedelic aura as it reflected off of the Halloween costumes worn.

In an attempt to lure more partygoers MEA only charged $1 admission and awarded treats every half-hour. The door prizes included CDs, 1994 White Iris Ball T-shirts, memberships to the Longbranch, $25 gift certificate to the Cutting Edge, various food gift certificates, and tickets to the 1995 White Iris Ball.

While some students came to the "Hoe-Down" expecting to see men, the majority who attended shared the feeling that one student expressed when she said she had "a lot of fun with her friends."

Meredith students have fun with friends at the Haunted Hoe-Down.

Movie: Return to Aztlan

Date: November 7

When: 7:00p.m.

Where: Kresge

Auditorium

Sponsored by: La Tertulia and Sigma Delta Phi spoken in Nahuatl with subtitles in Spanish and English

Mardi Gras '95

MEA presents WHITE IRIS BALL

Featuring: The Tony Elliot Band

What: fall semi-formal

When: Nov. 10, 1995 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Where: Raleigh Civic Center

Who: You and your special someone

How much: $40—2 tickets

2 t-shirts

2 surprises

$35—2 tickets

1 t-shirt

2 surprises

$30—1 ticket

1 t-shirt

2 surprises

Tickets will be on sale Monday, Nov 6th and 10th in dining hall-lunch and dinner and MEA balloon gallery Monday-Thursday 10 a.m. -4 p.m. and Friday 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Questions please call Hollie or Christina at #7911

Prepare yourself for a world that needs you.

- Master of Divinity
- Master of Arts in Old Testament
- Master of Arts in New Testament
- Master of Arts in Church History
- Master of Arts in Theology
- Master of Arts in Christian Education
- Master of Arts in Counseling
- Master of Arts in World Missions and Evangelism
- Master of Arts in Religion
- Master of Theology (Th.M.)
- Doctor of Ministry

For more information, call 800-428-7329

SOUTH HAMILTON BOSTON CHARLOTTE

Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary

130 ESSEX STREET SOUTH HAMILTON, MA 01962

Have a fun and safe time with Cornhuskin' and Good Luck to all classes!

From the Herald Staff