

Juniors show their class spirit

ERIN GRANT
Junior Class President

Last week, the class of 2000 held its first Spirit Week.

The week began with Pajama Day on Monday. All class members were encouraged to wear their favorite pair of pajamas all day.

Tuesday was Pearls and Bows Day. The class was to dress as preps. That evening, the junior class was also encouraged to attend the basketball game against Bennet College.

The class of 2000, along with MRA, co-sponsored Knockout, the half-time game. The winners received $20 worth of Bee Bucks, good in the BeeHive.

On Wednesday, big sis/li'l sis day, the classes of 2000 and 2002 wore their big sis/li'l sis T-shirts. That night, they took a break from homework and relaxed in second Cate by watching TV and eating pizza.

Jill Bruner and Erin Grant conducted most of the planning for the week's events. Elizabeth Greiner expressed dissatisfaction for the big sis/li'l sis turnout of only about 50 people.

"Big sis/li'l sis" was not well attended, but it was enjoyed by all who did come," said Greiner.

Cornhuskin' Spirit Day was held Thursday. Juniors were asked to wear their 1998 Cornhuskin' sweatshirts and black pants. That evening, a spirit dinner was held in Belk Dining

Inclement Weather Policy

In the event of inclement weather, faculty, staff and students should call 760-2384 for the latest information on class cancellations and office closings.

When possible, the College will also run public announcements on 101.5 FM and WRAL Channel 5, and on the WRAL website at www.wraltv.com/contents/.

Be all you can be

PRESS RELEASE
Meredith College Career Center

On Feb. 24, the Meredith College Career Center will host the sixth annual Majors Fair in Belk Dining Hall between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m.

"The Majors Fair gives undeclared and undecided freshmen and sophomores the opportunity to speak to faculty and student representatives from every department on campus," said Allison Finch, assistant director of the Career Center.

Even students who have already decided their majors can benefit from attending the fair. Those interested in study abroad should take this opportunity to learn about Meredith's programs abroad, as well as consult program directors about how to schedule and finance the programs.

"Students can talk with professors in an informal setting about major requirements, career opportunities, course content, potential major/minor combinations and much more," added Finch.

In addition to academic departments, the Registrar's Office, the Office of Academic Advising, Meredith Study Abroad and the Career Center will be available to answer questions.

Refreshments and door prizes, including gift certificates and Meredith College clothing, will be distributed throughout the two-hour event.

Don't miss this unique and exciting opportunity to find the answers you have been seeking. Nearly 300 students attended this event last year—come to the 1999 Majors Fair and "Be All That You Can Be."
