Cary gallery has Wright stuff

PAGE-WALKER CENTER
Press Release

The Page-Walker Arts & History Center is host of a special exhibition of Frank Lloyd Wright artifacts and reproductions. The exhibit is on view in the second floor gallery of the Page-Walker Center and runs through Apr. 20. Admission is free.

Frank Lloyd Wright spent more than 70 years creating designs that revolutionized the art and architecture of this century.

The Page-Walker exhibit includes artifacts and reproductions of architectural motifs, site renderings by the artist, photographs and examples of arts and crafts items utilizing Wright designs.

The exhibit is from the collection of local architect William M. Britt, AIA.

In conjunction with the exhibit, the Page-Walker

Center will be offering a special course examining the life, works and legacy of America's most influential architect.

The course, "Frank Lloyd Wright, An American Genius," meets on Tuesday evenings beginning Mar. 16-Apr. 20 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and will be conducted by Britt, who has studied Wright for over thirty years.

The class will focus on Wright's individualism and his cultural influence and examine how Wright's designs have become an integral part of American lives. The course will include a rare video of a Wright-designed building and a new interactive software demonstrations of a Wright design never executed.

The cost of the course is $50 for Cary residents and $56 for non-Cary residents. Registration can be made at the Page-Walker Center by mail at P.O. Box 8005, Cary, NC 27512. Make checks payable to the Town of Cary.

The Page-Walker Exhibit is co-sponsored by the Town of Cary Parks, Recreation and Cultural Resources Department and Friends of Page-Walker, Inc.

The Page-Walker Center is located at 119 Ambassador Loop in downtown Cary next to Cary Town Hall. Gallery hours are Mon.-Tues., 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.; Wed.-Thu., 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.; and Fri., 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. The Page-Walker gallery is sometimes used for other functions; telephone to check viewing hours. Letter to the Editor: Leave thin alone

To Misty Squires,

Thank you so much for your article in the last edition of the Herald. Rarely do people realize that thin people undergo scrutiny for their weight, too, and it isn't always easy being thin, despite what people might think. Your article was right to the point and much needed.
