Scholarships Cont.

For other students who want to pursue a scientific field, she said, "Get involved in as many science related activities as you can, whether it is the science club, an internship or a program like the one GlaxoSmithKline offers."

Although she has not participated in an internship, she plans to do so this summer.

In addition to science, Duran enjoys playing the violin and running cross country. She is also a member of Meredith's cross country team.

According to the company's website, GlaxoSmithKline is a world leading research-based pharmaceutical company with a powerful combination of skills and resources.

GlaxoSmithKline's mission is to improve the quality of human life by enabling people to do more, feel better and live longer.

Headquartered in the United Kingdom and with operations based throughout the United States, the company is an industry leader, and it holds an estimated seven percent of the world's pharmaceutical market.

The Women in Science Scholars Program is a unique mentoring enterprise that encourages women undergraduates in North Carolina to pursue careers in the sciences while raising awareness of job opportunities in various scientific fields.
