

CiCy Suds: SPICE UP YOUR STYLE

Our Fashion Expert turn to stylebakery.com

Stylebakery.com is full of delectable strategies to help you spice up your style.

You'll find recipes for everything from the perfect work ensemble to the latest beauty must-haves. Each recipe is a roundup of the freshest clothing, accessories and gift ideas, including tips on how to put it all together. See something you like? Stylebakery.com tells you exactly where to find it and even includes direct links to some of the Web's best retailers. CiCy Girls Alison Deyette, Jennifer Davidson and Beth Herbst are the head style chefs at stylebakery.com. For the past 10 years, they have covered fashion and style trends for TV shows. We're not ones to name drop, but they've been on NBC's "The Today Show", ABC's "The View", CBS's "Early Show", ABC's "Good Morning America", "Oprah" and "Extra". WOW!

I love stylebakery.com because of their "real world/real girl" philosophy. They realize that not everyone identifies with the fashions seen on the catwalks or in mega mags. Each season, they translate the newest trends for "real" people, "real" bodies, "real" budgets and "real" lifestyles. I know every CiCy Girl can appreciate that.

The goal at stylebakery.com is to gather all the ingredients you need to create your own recipe for style on one website. The style chefs edit the latest fashions, accessories, beauty products and gift ideas with CiCy Girl tastes and appetites in mind. So check out stylebakery.com to see what's cookin'! Bon appetit!
