Meredith College Condom Survey Results

NICOLE BIRD
Contributing Writer

The results from the "Student Life Committee Condom Availability Survey" are in! But first, the Student Life Committee and the SGA want to thank every Angel who took the time to fill out a survey on such an important issue; and now for the survey results. As to those who believe Meredith College should make condoms available to all students on campus, an overwhelming 70.9% said the college should make condoms available; 17.5% said no, and 11.7% were neutral on the subject. Taking into account each individual's answer to the subject of whether or not condoms should be made available on campus, the results as to the availability of condoms for dispersing are as follows; 58.6% feel that condoms should be free (paid for by the college), 18% feel that condoms should be made available for sale, 14.6% chose to answer not applicable, and 8.8% specified other. Finally, as to the venues through which students would like to see the condoms made available to them, they are; 30.4% for vending machines on campus, 72.4% by the Health Center, 14.5% chose to answer not applicable, and 21.1% specified other. For the many students who specified 'Other' on this survey, please know that the Student Life Committee and the SGA will take all your considerations into account when pursuing this matter. Again we would like to thank the remarkable 738 students who participated in this survey making it by far the most responded to survey as of to date. Your involvement spoke volumes, surpassing prior surveys such as the Dining Survey with 282 participants, the Weekend Survey with 573 participants, and the SGA Survey with 492 participants. Please note, that even though the majority of students want to see condoms made available on campus, the decision as to 'how they will be paid for' has not been made yet, nor has a time line be set for when they will not be made available. For any concerns or comments, please contact Jessica Conicelli, Student Life Chair, at conicell@meredith.edu.
