

W & J RIVES

This is the first edition of our Newsletter and we were hoping to use W & J RIVES' logo with this issue, but we were unable to do so. Hopefully, things will be in full swing by December. As announced, Ann Ashby is the winner of the contest held a few weeks ago, and the title will also be used in the next issue.

This month's Newsletter is just a trial edition and we will be glad to receive any comments or ideas that anyone may have. Please help us make this a successful project!
