The Town of Pine Knoll Shores, Community Appearance Commission and the Garden Club dedicated a bench to Paul and Lois Jean O'Keefe, pictured here and the "Keepers of the Hereth Garden," in appreciation of 20 years of service to our town. Appropriately, the bench is located at town hall with a perfect view of the O'Keefes' handiwork in the Hereth Garden. Inset: plaque attached to the bench.—Photo by Barbara Yankauskas

Seeking K4TW Volunteers

Things are gearing up for the 2019 Kayak for the Warriors (K4TW) activities in late May and June—and volunteers are needed in the following areas to help with the logistics:

1. Someone to help transition our web page into a more updated version and be willing to update information as necessary
2. A person or persons willing to act as drink coordinator for our events, which entails reaching out to existing contacts that donate water, soft drinks and sweet tea for all our events. Contacts are already in place; this person would simply coordinate the donations. Naval Federal Credit Union provides plastic bags and water for our events, and the Single Marine Program coordinator at Cherry Point helps provide a Marine work detail for the kayak race.
3. Public relations is an important aspect of our events, and we need someone willing to contact various publications, town offices, etc. to get the word out. We have a list of contacts for this as well.

If any of these volunteer positions interest you, please contact Jean McDanal at jmcdanal@ec.rr.com or 252-808-2998. Getting started now will make everybody's job easier. Thank you for considering becoming a part of this important town event.
