

2019 Halloween in Pine Knoll Shores

Families gathered at Brock Basin for the traditional Pine Knoll Shores Halloween pot luck before heading out to the neighborhood for some trick or treating. The real treat was seeing the thought and fun put into costumes. Three generations of witches came from one family, and Princess Jasmine came with mom dressed as a cat and baby sister as Abu the monkey. Everyone enjoyed a special evening of neighborhood fun.—Photos by Margaret Young

Town Crier