ELECTION PRODUCES

To the surprise of almost no one, the proposition for liquor by the drink was defeated at the polls in Pine Knoll Shores on Tuesday, November 3. The vote was 184 against and 148 for the proposition. In the election for commissioners there were three openings on the Board and the three candidates ran unopposed. Votes for each were: Gordon Gibson - 310; Jack Thompson - 292, and Wayne Cleveland - 277. A total of 334 votes were cast by residents of Pine Knoll Shores.

FEW SURPRISES

TOWN'S CAMA PLAN

The Coastal Resource Commission, which has been considering the town's Cama Land Use Plan announced approval of that submitted by Pine Knoll Shores, it was announced at the Tuesday, November 10 meeting of the Board of Commissioners.

RECEIVES APPROVAL

The plan can now be implemented.

Also at the meeting, the commissioners received the report of the auditing firm, which examined the town's books, and who took the occasion to compliment the town on its presentation, and the manner in which the accounts are maintained. The report indicated the town is in sound financial condition. The report also commented favorably on the adoption by the town of establishing reserves, or sinking funds, for the replacement of capital items.

The presentation was made by Paul Hamlin, of the firm of Neighbors, Neal, Hamlin & Balbirer.

In his report to the commissioners Building Inspector Bob Hope said he had issued permits for the construction of two residential buildings and two miscellaneous structures during October. He said presently under construction in Pine Knoll Shores are 11 residential buildings, three condominium units and two commercial structures. He also reported that 2 certificates of occupancy were issued in October.

Brad Smith, commissioner for public properties, in his report, took the occasion to thank and compliment Erma Johnson for the landscaping work she and others have done around the Town Hall, which he said had enhanced the property.
