

OUR NEW NEIGHBORS

Fortunate are we in Pine Knoll Shores to have yet another friendly and talented couple, Mary and Paul Heim, choose our town for their retirement.

The Heims came to their condominium in Pine Knoll Townes in February and moved to their new home on Sycamore Drive in May of this year. They had heard about Pine Knoll Shores from Bob and Evelyn Erath who had purchased land on Loblolly Drive. That was eleven years ago. They came here for vacation, bought property, and have been vacationing here ever since. Back home in Seaford, Long Island, they were sailing enthusiasts and they plan to acquire a sailboat here.

Paul was a Design Engineer with Gruman Aerospace Corporation for over twenty years; and Mary worked in the Special Education Office in the Seaford School System. They hope to participate in local activities as soon as they are settled. Mary has already joined the Women's Club. She enjoys golf and bridge. The Heims both like to garden and both are avid readers. Their home has many lovely antiques which Mary enjoys collecting.

The Heims have five children. Their youngest son, Paul, was a 1983 graduate of Annapolis and is stationed with the Navy in California where he is a Naval Flight Officer. Mary Beth is a Legal Assistant with a real estate firm in Manhattan and her sister, Paula, is an Administrative Assistant with an advertising agency in that city. Phillip is attending school in California and Alicia is a Project Manager in Mental Health for New York State. With children living on both coasts, Mary and Paul cover a lot of miles on visits to their family.

Our new neighbors on Hawthorne Drive are Fran and Arty Miller. They are from Long Island, New York. Fran is originally from Hamilton Square, New Jersey, but Arty was raised on Long Island.

Arty retired from Grumman Aircraft Corporation as a Methods Planner. His last exciting project was working on the new forward swept wing aircraft. Fran retired from her position as Secretary to the Superintendent of Schools in Massapique, N. Y.

The Millers have two sons and a daughter, all still living on Long Island, and six grandchildren ranging in ages 11 months to 17 years. Arty and Fran are looking forward to many visits from them.

Fran and Arty discovered this beautiful place about 20 years ago while on one of their "wanderings". They have been back at least two times each year for vacations. They already have many friends here. Harry Schlimper and Arty were in grade school together as well as both working for Grumman.

When I asked about hobbies they said they didn't have any - but - Fran likes sewing, gardening, and golf and, oh yes, she loves the beach and likes to cook. Arty enjoys woodwork and bicycling.

Diane and Jay Donovan are half moved into their house on Walnut Circle. It's like this: Jay wasn't quite ready to retire, but Diane was. He's hanging in at his personnel job at Alexander's Department store in New York until December. Diane is settling into their home here right now and will have it truly tip-top by the time Jay eases out of his successful career.

Until March, Diane was office manager for Armstrong World Industries. They've lived most recently in Ridgewood, N. J. Earlier they were in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, where
