

brown thrashers, squirrels, starlings, Carolina wrens, cardinals, and raccoons. Baby birds eat every half hour, so now you know why we're so busy!

Speaking of raccoons, O.W.L.S. loves people like Hayes and Libby McCulley, who found a nest on their boat. Hayes spoke to us several times as we "walked him through" helping the mom to move her babies elsewhere. Patient wildlife lovers, like the McCulleys keep us smiling....and coming back every day!

O.W.L.S. BADLY NEEDS: A small microwave oven. Ours is dying fast, and we have many baby formulas to heat. Call 240-1200.

P.S. -- Update on "Hardy" the great horned owlet: his ear and eye problems cleared up completely feathered and eats mice by himself. After some live prey practice, he'll be released in about a month.

O.W.L.S. IS AN ALL VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATION -- PLEASE GIVE!

PINE KNOLL SHORES GARDEN CLUB

The Pine Knoll Shores Garden Club wishes to thank everyone who purchased Geraniums and Caladiums at the Club Geranium sale last month. The profit from these sales is traditionally spent on a Pine Knoll Shores beautification project. Your overwhelming support made it possible for the Garden Club to install a completely new planting of shrubs and annuals at Oakleaf and Salter Path. We hope you all will enjoy this project as you drive by.

By the way -- the hot pink and teal tee shirts you're seeing around town belong to Garden Club members. Thanks to Ann Hitch for the inspiration and Frank Johnson for the design.
