

Welcome New Residents

Cindy and John Agatone, 114 Yaupon Road. They bought Della and Dan Ericksen's former home. Della is Cindy's sister. Speaking of sisters (we are getting their whole family down here), Bernie and Cindy's brother, Paul Hamer, is also here in Pine Knoll Shores. Their sister, Lou Wilson and hubby live in Morehead City - and there are more to come. It's a family of seven. Wow!

Cindy was born in Plainfield, NJ, then moved to Montelais in Northern Virginia. She graduated from Misericordia College in Dallas, Pa, where she studied Interior decorating and had a shop. She worked out of her home in Montclair, VA. John and Cindy met at a college dance.

John was born in Westchester, PA, and lived most of his life in Williamstown, PA (near Harrisburg, PA). He attended Kings College in Wilkes Barre, PA. John worked for the Federal Government in Management.

They have three children: David, single in Newport News, VA; Jodie, married to Danny Du Breuil, they live in Chesapeake, VA and have two children; and Steve, married to Lee, they live in Fredericksburg, VA and have a newborn.

Cindy loves decorating and sewing and is learning to golf. She enjoys reading. John does beautiful woodworking and has made some lovely furniture. He enjoys golf and reading.

They have been coming here for seven years visiting Dan and Della. They love it!

John and Diane O'Sullivan moved into their lovely home at 125 Oakleaf Drive the end of February, 1998. Originally Diane lived in Atlanta, Georgia. John was born in Chicago, Illinois. His father was transferred to West Germany where John went to high school. He went to college in Germany majoring in "skiing;" then transferred to the University of Colorado, worked as a Machinist and finished his B.S. Degree in Business at Oklahoma State. He continued his education at the University of Texas where he received an MBA. He started working for the Ford Motor Company in Atlanta and transferred to the Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick in Atlanta where he met Diane.

They were transferred to New Jersey where John served as Regional Sales Manager. After they left New Jersey, Diane was involved in finance and banking. She ultimately worked at a division of Bank of America in Phoenix. They made several more moves before they settled in Glendale, Arizona, adjacent to Phoenix. They have both recently retired and moved here from Phoenix.

John's mother, Joan O'Sullivan, lived in this house for fourteen years. They had visited here many times and after she passed away last year, John and Diane decided to buy the house. John has a brother in Morehead City and Diane is now nearer her family in Georgia. Diane has an 18-year old son who attends Brime College in Alabama.

They both are "hooked" on golf and have joined the BBCC where they play with the Eighteen Holers. One of their loves is skiing and they intend to continue this sport next winter. Diane loves the beach and they share a love of tennis.
