

Local Author Presents

By Dot Miller

Members of the Friends of the Library board invite all readers of The Shoreline to hear local photographer and writer Jack Dudley when he presents his latest book, Bogue Banks: A Look Back, in a program at the Bogue Banks Public Library at 7:00 p.m., on Tuesday, November 17.

Mr. Dudley, a Carteret county resident and retired Morehead City dentist, spends his free time pursuing our coastal history and folklore. He applies his avocations of photography and historical research to document the history and traditions of North Carolina's once isolated rural communities. To date, Mr. Dudley has written and published a growing number of beautiful books, including those about Morehead City, Swansboro, Down East, Beaufort and Outhouses Along the White Oak.

He is an active member of the Core Sound Decoy Carvers' Guild and an avid supporter of the waterfowl museum in their goal to help preserve the history and traditions of the people of Carteret County.

Mr. Dudley will be glad to sign books for those who want to own a Bogue Banks' treasure. In the spirit of cooler fall weather, cider and doughnuts will be served.

Mark the date, November 17.
