

Mention Around the Mills

Karastan Mill

By Frances Watson

Mrs. Morris Turner, who has been a patient at Baptist hospital, Winston-Salem, has returned to her home and is improving nicely.

The Carvers are very happy to have Mrs. Margaret Hutcherson back at work after being out sick for some time.

Mrs. Gordon Land and Miss Marian McGuire spent last Sunday visiting the former's sisters, Mrs. Preston Clark and Mrs. C. W. Moorefield, at Sutherland, Va.

Mrs. Jack Simpson was week-end house guest of Miss Martha Nolen in Stoneville. They spent Saturday in Greensboro shopping.

Misses Catherine Cox, Elaine Grogan and Mrs. Steve Adams are spending two weeks in Pittsburgh, Pa., with the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Ebert.

Billy Rickman, S2/C, Herman L. Rickman, GM3/C, and Jack Rickman, of Suffolk, Va., have been visiting their mother, Mrs. Emma Rickman.

We are glad to see Ada Whitten back in the weave room after being out several weeks with a broken arm.

Well that ship has sailed again, Minnie is back. We hope Hugh will be sailing back to you again soon.

Irene Meeks had quite a surprise Friday afternoon when the postman not only gave her six letters from husband Frank in Australia, but roses for her birthday. We understand now where she gets all those roses she wears in her hair every day.

Thelma and Shirley told Edmonia she surely was sorry she had become a social outcast. I guess that accounts for that downcast expression you were wearing Sunday. "Perk" up, kid; we'll make up for everything.

Mrs. Minnie Berrier of the setting department has recently returned from Portsmouth, Va., after visiting her husband, Harold "Snip" Berrier, who is with the U. S. Navy.

Rumley-Salmons.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Rumley, of Leaksville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lorraine, to Pvt. Edward W. Salmons, of Cascade, Va. and Camp Shelby, Miss., where he is stationed with the U. S. Army. The bride is making her home with her parents.

Mrs. P. G. Meeks and son, Floyd, visited E. Haywood Meeks, RM3/C, at Norfolk, Va., last week-end.

Ray Land, R. M. Biggs and Jack Edwards visited friends in Reidsville, Sunday.

Mrs. James Graveley, of Green Cove Springs, Fla., and Miss Christine Moody, of Russell, Fla., spent several days last week with Miss Fannie Graveley here.

Pfc. Frank Ellington, Jr., who was wounded in France June 10 is now at Ashford General hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Mrs. Ellington, the former Elizabeth Sutliff, left last week to visit her husband there.

Mrs. Ernest Shuford and small daughter, Glenda Rose, of Topeka, Kans., are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Shuford's husband, son of Mrs. Mabel Shuford, was stationed at Camp Polk, La., before going overseas.

Mrs. Harry Walker recently received word of her husband's promotion to sergeant. Sgt. Walker is stationed at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cox, of Martinsville, Va., were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wickham, Sunday.

Yep, here I am again, just barely pulling through this heat. Aren't you hot too. I thought so. Those of us who haven't been on our vacations look like withered flowers and feel like it.

Annie is back so the office has resumed its full time in laughs.

Lillie Lemons was happy to hear that her brother, Staff. Sgt. Warner Gatewood, has returned from overseas. He has served 19 years August 5, and is at present in the McGuire General hospital in Atlanta.

Iris, you should watch all this courting at one time. You need your beauty rest you know.

Rachel F. tells us she is getting herself a husband in a few days. Here's wishing you loads of happiness.

"Kingfish" Pender has returned from his vacation. While gone he visited his son in camp. Doesn't look like son gave father any too much exercise or the drilling doesn't affect some folks.

Brother Shively is mighty happy too, because his son is coming home before long, he says.

Mildred Adams is enjoying herself. Lillian, you say the noise is awful.

Welcome Kirby. Hope you'll enjoy your visit here at the Woolen Mill as much as we are to have you here with us.

Grady, you'd better look after Tommy. I hear he doesn't like this new club.

Peter Paul, what were you doing in Draper Saturday? Bet that box of candy was good.

Be seeing you again before long, so 'till then be good.

Folks, our newlyweds, Mary Evelyn and J. T., are in Florida these days. Thought you'd like to know as so many people have been asking about them. Sgt. Duggins is there for reassignment and so far as we know Mary Evelyn will return to work after a three weeks vacation. Hurry back, we miss you. Oh, by the way, your assistant says your job is O.K., but she likes it much better when you are here.

Mrs. Gladys Bolden got quite a shock out of the storm we had Monday evening due to lightning striking her home on the Draper road.

Miss Peggy Cundiff, of Louisville, Ky., spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Edna Taylor.

Seaman Ray Carter, of Norfolk, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Phillips spent the week-end in the mountains in and around Hillsville, Va., where they attended home coming week at Dalton Hill church.

Harold Berrier, S2/C, known to his many friends here as "Snip", spent last week-end with his wife and parents.

Mrs. Stella Talbert has received word that her son, Pfc. Berean C. Talbert, has landed safely in England. Good luck, Berean.

Mrs. Len Moore, Mrs. Hattie Ferguson and Mrs. Tom Meeks and son, Tommie, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Stella Talbert, on the Boulevard.

Chatter Vs. Jabber

Central Warehouse Office

Ho hum! What a waste of energy that was. Maybe some of that wasted energy should have been saved to go snooping around in the "snooper" places to learn a little more dope to spiel out.

Could the trouble with these girls be the heat of August or is it that handsome soldier (sailor or marine) that they are thinking about.

We know that Rebecca Pender has been saying "Good-bye!" to somebody, for we hear that we almost had to say "Farewell!" to Becky.

Robert Joyce and Ed Martin are always trying to get something on the other—but so far what they've dug up hasn't been "printable" yet.

Iva Pendleton and Mamie Burcham are being perfect examples to these "bachelor" girls. Iva has canned jel-
