

Mention Around the Mills

Blanket Mill

By Katherine Turner

Well! We have a brand new elevator in our department. We hope there will be no more falls in our ups and downs.

Once there was two Smith girls in same room of hospital, and the one named "Hilda" came home to soon.

We congratulate our new brides: Miss Mozelle Johnson, who was wed to Henry Essic of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Lorlene Handy to Edd Powell, both of Blanket department; Mrs. Leona Smart to George Wiseman of Canada; Miss Peggy Hall to Willard Minter, both of Blanket department.

Earlie Ball is in Greensboro for a few weeks.

Miss Madeline Smart of Campbell College spent the week-end at home with her mother and new pop, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiseman.

Ronnie Chambers is at home from State College for a few days. There's a broad smile on someone's face. Just look at Jessie Ann Hopper.

Mrs. Russell Wade enjoyed the week-end in Roanoke, Va., visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wyrick and grandson, Howard Montgomery, of Greensboro visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earlie Ball Sunday.

Roy and Lela Ball, of Greensboro, visited their brother, Earlie Ball, over the week-end.

Mrs. Pat Patterson, of Leaksville, visited Mrs. Clifford Ball Sunday. Also Miss Sherlie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Chilton visited in Danville, Va., Saturday.

Elbert Yeatts, of Radford, Va., spent a few days with relatives in town and was dinner guest of Mrs. Jess Clayton on Monday night. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Gerringer.

Broadus Burgess was doing a new dance step Saturday night, when he met an old friend from Fieldale at the Y. M. C. A., Troy Merriman. We would also like to see him.

Roy Saunders, recently back from the bang-bang of war, could not stand the height of the electric tower. What about it, Roy? We don't understand.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hall had as dinner guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Crowder. Mrs. Crowder is a native of Honolulu and was married to Mr. Crowder last November. He has served for 12 years in that country.

Mrs. Hall is delighted with everything over here in her new home. She was particularly impressed with our food, much of which was strange to her. She had never tasted corn bread or biscuits, but according to her husband she now makes good biscuits.

She is rapidly mastering the English language and in her soft tones the language sounds more like music than mere words. Twenty-six years old, with big soft brown eyes and very black hair she is unusually pretty and is making friends fast.

At present the couple are living with Mr. Crowder's mother, Mrs. Jean Crowder, near Reidsville.

Bedsprad Mill

Mrs. Frank Jones

Mr. and Mrs. Turmin Dishman, of Draper, visited Mr. and Mrs. Hylton Sauls Sunday.

Miss Elmira Martin had as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Carlis Martin and Mr. and Mrs. William Murray. Say, Elmira, didn't the "Priddy" boy come to see you, too?

Claudia Bingham has no news. Says she spent a quiet week-end at home. Get lonesome, Claudia?

Can anyone find an extra box of Kleenex? John Coleman has no news and a bad cold, too.

Belvin Gatewood has accepted a position in the Weave room.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Dalton and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Land spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Macy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hill are looking for their son, James, home any day. Should have gotten here yesterday.

Mrs. Grover Moore attended preaching at Rev. John Corum's Sunday.

William Meeks' mother, Mrs. Sam Meeks, is a patient at the Leaksville Hospital with a broken shoulder as the result of a fall. We hope your mother will soon be well, William.

Robert Harris has been absent from work for the past two weeks. His mother, Mrs. Victoria Harris, has been seriously ill with the "flu." She is much better now.

Mrs. Annie L. Kezziah, of Canton, N. C., spent last week with her brother, Robert Harris, and her mother, Mrs. Victoria Harris.

Rev. and Mrs. Tillman were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Callahan, of Draper.

Mrs. Thomas Alley and small daughter, Martha Stone Alley, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Tillman Sunday afternoon.

Bill McCulloch took his small son, Billy, Jr., to the Memorial Hospital,

Danville, Saturday for an operation. Hope he'll soon be well again, Bill.

We regret to report that Rev. Hobson Talbot is leaving us.

Mrs. Minnie Keaton says she has no news except that she is still saved.

Last, but not least, Rufus Biggs is still looking for a wife. Anyone interested please see him.

Mrs. Janie Wall was discharged from the hospital Friday and is getting along nicely.

Mary Smith won't tell us a thing, but I bet she knows something. Eh, Mary?

Central Warehouse Chatter-box

By Leroy Sweeney

Packing Department:

Very glad to see Doris Newman at work following her tonsilectomy.

Jimmy Mustain and Mr. David Davis, of Danville, visited "Tee" Stanley this Sunday past.

Rufus Howell, another ex-G. I., has been added to our department. He worked in Draper before coming here.

Blanket Stock Department:

"Big Boy" Johnson was out a few days last week hacking down "that" old plum tree.

The welcome-mat has been thrown out for Frank Norman, another dischargee, who is returning to his old job soon. Frank, we are glad to have you back!

Shipping Department:

February was the month of famous people, also Ethel Shively and Jesse DeHart.

John E. Archibald spent the last week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Archibald.

Our hats are off to the folks of this department for their all-out drive for the National Red Cross recently.

Robert Harris has been in a "fuddle" lately trying to decide to sell his farm to Mr. McBride or Mr. Archibald. They both want it, it seems! How's about tossing a coin, Bob?

Miss Ethel Shively, Melvin Robertson, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robertson and family certainly had a splendid time Sunday, seeing the sights of Lover's Leap, Fairy Stone Park, and other mountainous points of rugged beauty and splendor.

Bleachery

By Charlotte Martin

Well, folks, here it is news time again and it has just about caught me with no news again, but here goes: I'm gonna make a stab at it.

We welcome two new employees in the Sewing room. They are: Snoda Craddock and Pauline Taylor. Hope you'll like us, girls, and also your new work.