

A bit of fast action during the game between Fieldale High school and Mayodan High school, which was won by Fieldale, in the 20th annual Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel Northwest Basketball Tournament in March. The Fieldale boys, termed by Winston-Salem sports writers as "a smart boys' cage team" were sensational in the tournament in which 117 of the best high school teams in this section of the country took part. It has been correctly named "the world's largest high school tournament" and the Fieldale team won an enviable place in the hearts of basketball fans and players all over the section. Incidentally, the Fieldale boys had won 39 straight games during the past two years before losing to Kannapolis in the finals at Winston-Salem.

While no effort is made to detract from the victory of Kannapolis it must be said that the Fieldale boys, who usually shine at converting fouls into points, were far off during this final game, making good only seven out of 17 attempts, while Kannapolis made good 11 out of 16 tries. So, had the Fieldale boys been up to par the score—39 to 35—might have been different.

Another unusual thing was that Coach Russell made no substitutions whatever in the first, the semi-final, and final games. In these days of lightning substitutions this is a mighty unusual record. All praise to these boys who accomplished it.

The games won, in the order played: Fieldale 33, Methodist Children's Home 22; Fieldale 43, Reeds 18; Fieldale 33, Mayodan 17; Fieldale 41, Granite Quarry 20;

Karastan News

By Doris N. Stultz

Sunday afternoon B. A. Rickman, medical technician, arrived from France after 26 months overseas. He has received his honorable discharge much to mother's pleasure.

Lewis Cole surprised his mother, Mrs. Bertha Cole, by coming in with his discharge from the Navy. He served on the 134 USS Clensmith.

Frances Brame, Marie Strutton and Pauline Crowder were in Danville during the week-end.

The Setters are sorry to learn Lena Roberts has not been able to return to her work due to illness.

Dolly Moore said good-bye to her son Fred Monday morning when he was inducted into the Army.

Harry Lee Dunn was home for the Spring holidays from V.P.I.

Mrs. G. F. Troxler of Staunton, Va., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Gunn. The Gunn's, their guest and Mrs. Hettie Wilson and Glenn motored to Roanoke Sunday where Mr. Troxler joined them.

Mrs. Eva Adams, John and Paul Galimore and their wives were the guests of Mrs. J. L. Harmon in Roanoke, Va., for the week-end.

Elizabeth Johnson and other members of the Draper Baptist church choir motored to Roanoke Sunday afternoon and the group sang special music for the evening service of the Lake Street Baptist church of which Rev. Elbert Yates is now pastor.

Worley, Gaynelle, Virginia and the other Joyce's enjoyed a family dinner at the home of their aunt, Miss Florence Oakley Sunday. Mr. Charles Hopper was among the guests also.

Della Nichols has been visiting her brother-in-law Dock Boothe in Richmond.

The employees of the Weave Room send their best wishes for an early recovery to Pete Carter and Louise Rigney both of whom have been recent patients at Leaksville hospital.

Sherriell Storey, son-in-law of Mrs. Hester Hall, arrived from overseas Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Storey are now visiting his parents in Jonesboro, Tenn.

Grace Sawyer's mother, Mrs. Jenny Kemp is very ill.

Mrs. Charlie Fulcher has returned to work in the Burling department.

Loy Cassell celebrated his birthday last Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Land, Mrs. Ellen Clayton, Mrs.

(Continued on Page 6)

Fieldale 35, Mt. Airy 25; Fieldale 35, Kannapolis 39. In this final game for the championship the two contesting teams represented "the two largest towel manufacturers in the world."

We lost, but that does not detract one whit from the glory and honor the Fieldale boys won. We're proud of them and of the gallant fight they made.