

HAYDEN PRESENTS DESK TO NURSES

M. W. Hayden, Plant Service foreman at the Finishing Mill, has presented the nurses at Leaksville Hospital with the desk shown above in appreciation of kindness shown Mr. Hayden and family during illness. Designed and built by the donor, the desk has fluorescent lights, racks for charts, and other attractive features.

Shown at the desk is Miss Carolyn Lamar, graduate nurse, whose father, the late G. M. Lamar, was formerly superintendent of the Nantucket Mill.

HUMOR

Jeremiah Ezekiel James lived in the same house for more than 50 years. One day, to the consternation of the whole town, he moved into the house next door. A reporter was sent to interview him, because this was real news.

"What caused you to move, Mr. James?" asked the reporter.

"Wa-a-l," replied the old fellow reflectively, "I guess it's just the gypsy in me."

"Just think," said the missionary to a group of children. "In Africa there are six million square miles where little boys and girls have no Sunday School. Now what should we strive to save our money for?"

"To go to Africa!" cried a chorus of cheerful voices.

Patient: "Why stick me in the room with that crazy guy?"

Doctor: "The hospital is crowded. Is he troublesome?"

Patient: "I'll say. Just keeps looking around saying, 'No lions, no tigers, no elephants'—and all the time the room is full of them."

Auto Salesman: (Seeking information after making a sale) "What was the one dominant thing that made you buy this car?"

Purchaser: "My wife."

Visitor: "I can't tell you how delighted I am, Mrs. Giles. My son, Reggie has won a scholarship."

Farmer's Wife: "I can understand your feelings, ma'am. I felt just the same when our pig won a medal at the state fair."

It's usually the part that doesn't fit that does the squeaking.—Circle-News.

"I don't believe in parental influences. It's just a lot of bunk. Before I was born my mother broke an armful of phonograph records, and it didn't do me any harm, any harm, any harm...."
