Marshall Field Exhibit Wins First Prize At Fair

Pictured above is the Manufacturing Division's display of products which received first prize in the commercial exhibits at the Tri-City Agricultural Fair. The blue ribbon was awarded the Marshall Field exhibit on Wednesday night of Fair week. A conservative estimate placed the number of persons seeing the exhibit at 15,000, of which there were many who went back to the exhibit several times. A show official who had played fairs in several states declared that the Marshall Field exhibit was the most attractive and complete that he had witnessed.

All the Company's manufactured products were included: blankets, sheets, bedspreads, draperies, tufted bedspreads, nylon hosiery, towels, wash cloths, and bath mats, pillow cases, rayon and woolen piece goods, lace curtains and table cloths, rayon table cloths and napkins, and cotton and wool rugs.

Oh, yes! The mannequins are Marshall Field products, too—Hazel Carter, Engineering Department, left, and Madeline Meador, of the Payroll Department.
