

Son Of Rayon Man Wins DeMolay Honor Trophy

Homer Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hodges, of Leaksville, won the Thomas R. Fogle award at the recent State conclave in Winston-Salem. The trophy, given annually to the most outstanding DeMolay member in North Carolina, was presented to Hodges in ceremonies at Leaksville July 16 by Halsey B. Leavitt, Jr., left, superintendent of the Woolen Mill, who won the same award in 1931. Leavitt is chairman of the advisory board for the Leaksville chapter.

Young Hodges' father is a supervisor in the Rayon Weave Room.

Bleachery (By Charlotte Martin)

We put out our welcome mat to Virginia Curry and Alpha Cruise this week. Glad to have you with us and hope you will enjoy your work.

Mrs. Allie Houchins and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crews and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Webster and daughter and Ted Webster spent the day at Fairystone Park Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Mutt" Wilson and children spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson, of Axton, Va.

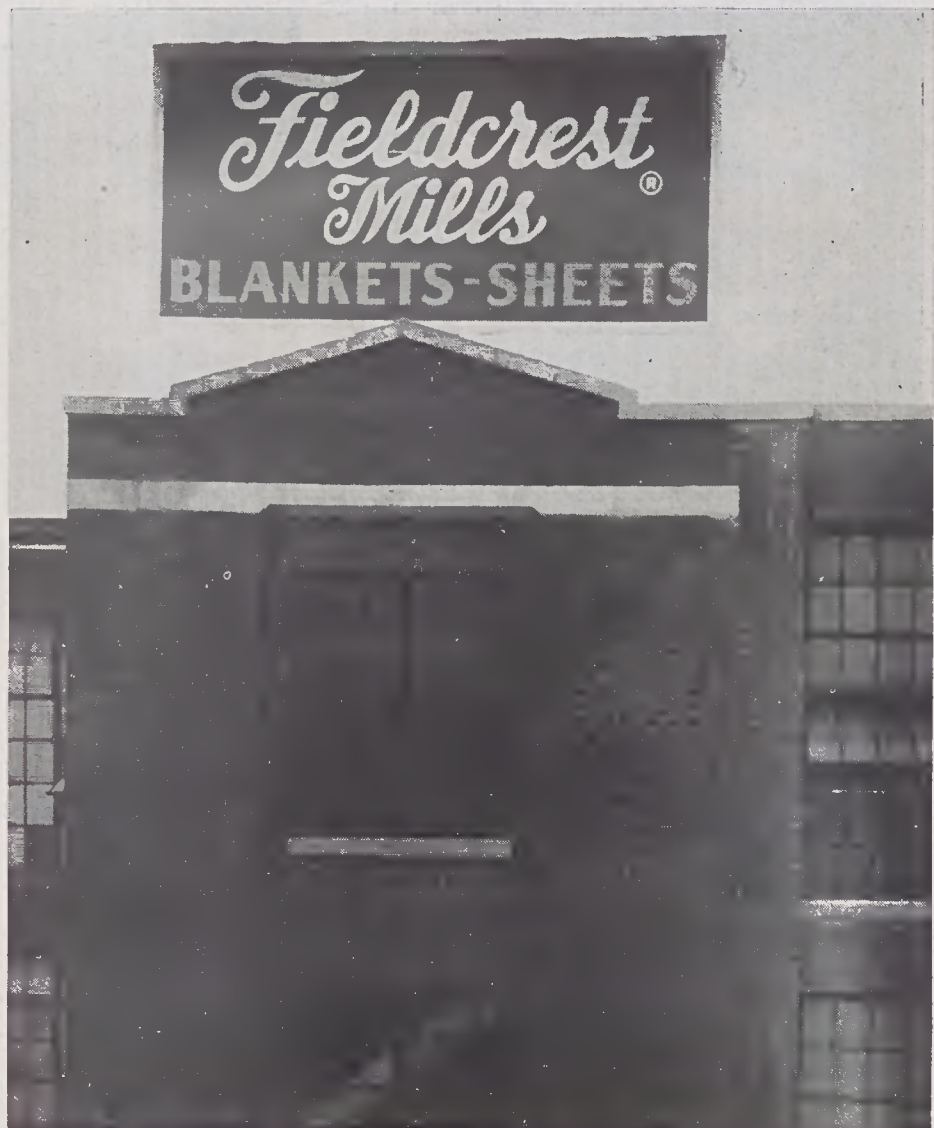

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Richardson, Mr. Russell Richardson and sons, Francis, Maurice and Kent, visited the former's brother, Grover Richardson, in Stokesdale.

Evelyn Beck is all excited these days. She and husband "Ran" have moved out in the country and started house-keeping. Best of luck to you, and how about inviting us up for supper sometime?

Talmadge Roberts of Chicago visited his sister, Mrs. Hunter Richardson, last week.

Right methods help prevent accidents.

TELLING THE WORLD:—Shown above is the large sign recently placed atop the stair tower at the Sheeting Mill. The circled "R" indicates that the trade name "Fieldcrest" is registered under the copyright laws. Other signs are being placed at the Bedsread Mill at Leaksville and the Towel Mill at Fieldale, Va. Highway signs are already in place at main intersections in the Tri-City and Fieldale, Va., areas.

Central Warehouse Office Chatter Vs. Jabber (By Glennice Jones)

Robert Joyce is a grandfather! Manley and Margaret Joyce have a son, born July 29.

Margie Perry Clarke has told us that she will leave the last of August to enter Wake Forest College this fall where her husband, Bill Clarke, is also a student.

Christine Martin celebrated a birthday recently. That new watch glitters equally with that gorgeous ring. There was also a new radio for a present. Sounds like Christmas in July!

Nancy Matlock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Matlock, will return this week from Colorado where they stayed a month with Mrs. Matlock's sister. Nancy vacationed with Lottie Eggleston while they were gone.

Ed Martin journeyed North to Connecticut on his vacation to see Frank Paulin, who played ball here last season.

Jack Ormand went deep sea fishing recently and caught a 35-lb. dolphin down on the coast of North Carolina.

The big news in the Blanket Stock Room is that Montague Thomas is married to Miss Bessie Smith of Price. Congratulations!

Jimmy Lamar went to Pamlico Beach on his recent vacation. He reports a good time, but also a very quiet one.

Mildred and Clarence Martin moved into their lovely new home on the Draper Road last week.