"It is not company policy to have people go home on Friday night after a week's work anything like as tired as they come in on Monday morning after the rigors of our American week-ends," says L. R. Boulware, vice president in charge of Employee Relations at General Electric.

Swinney Wins Game Against Checker Champion

G. C. Swinney, assistant foreman of the Jack Spinning Dept. at the Blanket Mill, received the thrill of a lifetime January 31, when he was able to win a game against Tommy Wiswell of Brooklyn, New York, world's champion free-style checker player. Several other local men played the champion to tie games. Fast-playing Charlie Roberts, watchman at the Finishing Mill, played Mr. Wiswell three games with a draw game on his third try. Ties were also scored by W. D. Gatewood, W. A. Berry, G. L. Hall, R. L. Shelton, A. D. Rodgers, and Ross Holderby.

Several out-of-town checker enthusiasts were among the 61 persons attending the tournament held at Central Y.M.C.A. in Spray as a feature of National Y.M.C.A. Week. Mr. Swinney, a personal friend of the checker champion, presided and presented Paul Peterson, secretary of Central Y.M.C.A., who discussed the possibility of organizing a local chess and checker club.

Champion Wiswell is now on a tour of the United States and appeared at the Fieldale Y.M.C.A., Saturday evening, February 7.
