

Staats Will Become Director Of Economic Research For Company

James L. Palmer, president of Marshall Field & Company, has announced that Elmer B. Staats, who shortly will leave his post as assistant director of the United States Bureau of The Budget in Washington, will join Marshall Field & Company in April as director of economic research for the corporation.

Mr. Palmer said that Staats will concern himself with economic and governmental trends as well as internal company research and analysis. Staats will work directly with Palmer.

Mr. Staats has been assistant director of the budget since 1950, and prior to that time held various assignments with the budget authority since 1939. For several years he has been a lecturer in public administration at George Washington University, and a member of the advisory council in the department of politics at Princeton University.

The new Field research head spent a year in 1938-39 as research fellow with the Brookings Institute. He also served for a year on special assignment for the Public Administration Service in Chicago, a consulting agency to various government bodies.

Mr. Staats was born at Richfield, Kansas, and was graduated from McPherson College in 1935. Later he took his master's degree at the University of Kansas, and his doctorate at the University of Minnesota. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

He is the author of a number of magazine articles in the field of economics and politics, and is active in the American Economics Association, the American Political Science Association, and the American Society for Public Administration. He is married, has three children, and plans to move his residence from Washington to the Chicago area.

Home Economics Expert Pays Visit To Girls Club

Dr. Maude Williamson, consultant for the school of home economics, Woman's College, visited the Girls' Club February 23 to discuss with Miss Isabelle Buckley, Girls club director, the community's Adult Home-making program. Dr. Williamson, a native of Colorado, is the author of college textbooks on home economics and recently returned from Japan where she was consultant for setting up home economics programs in schools of occupied Japan.

A Secret Unveiled

Wear 'em in a harem or on a hat, veils have to look crisp. Perk up that pathetic, limp-looking veil that got caught in the rain with this simple remedy of Tide Washing Clinic's. Place a piece of waxed paper over the veiling and press with a hot iron. Puts that old starch back in it! (If the veil is nylon, remember to use a cool iron.)

Your Social Security Payments Based On Earnings After 1950
