

Chief Accountant

second lieutenant and was discharged as a Major.

Mr. Laseter joined Fieldcrest Mills in October 1947 as cost accountant for the Rayon and Woolen Mills. About one year later he became an accountant in the General Accounting Dept., and since 1951 has headed Tabulating Dept.

Mr. Spaugh is a native of Winston-Salem and received his education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. For some time he was associated with the American Sales Book Company, traveling in North Carolina and Alabama. In 1943, he joined Douglas Aircraft Company at Long Beach and Santa Monica, California where he was in charge of systems and procedures.

Mr. Spaugh became head of Accounting Methods at Fieldcrest in 1948 and in 1950 assisted in setting up methods and procedures whereby some of our accounting is done on IBM equipment. His wife (Dorothy) is employed in Domestic Designing.

Only Yesterday

You'll not have much trouble identifying the three men in this old picture. All are long-service employees in the Blanket Wool Spinning. An old friend of the trio remarked that the picture was made just after they were "tamed and entered civilization."

Fishing Trip At Coast Enjoyed By Boy Scout

Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 100, sponsored by the Leaksville Methodist Church and the Leaksville-Spray Life Club, enjoyed a fishing trip to the coast last week-end. Under the leadership of Bob Wilkerson, scoutmaster, and Hill, assistant scoutmaster, the group spent Friday and Saturday nights at a fishing shack on the sound between Wrightsville Beach on Friday evening and spent the day Saturday fishing the inland waterways and swimming to the ocean. They visited Carolina Beach on Saturday night.

Scouts making the trip were: Richard Foster, Lindley Butler, Titus Allen, G. Singleton, Jr., Charles Ferguson, Henry Smith, William Ragsdale, and Karr Linkous, a visiting scout from Danville, Va.

"Our Secretary, Miss Jones . . ."

 Has my magazine come this month, Miss Jones?	 What do you think of these jokes I put in my speech, Miss Jones?	 My Dictaphone seems to be broken, Miss Jones!	 We really got out a lot of work last night, Miss Jones. We should work more in the evenings.
 Would you mind doing a little more copy work, Miss Jones?	 Do you like candy, Miss Jones?	 Miss Jones, did you make those three extra copies I asked for?	 Are you busy, Miss Jones?
 Make that 10 copies instead of eight, will you, Miss Jones?	 I hope you haven't typed that 20-page report yet, Miss Jones. We won't need it.	 Are you unhappy about something, Miss Jones?	 How do you spell "torque," Miss Jones?
 Miss Jones, would you mind working a little overtime tonight?	 "Miss Jones would be glad to type it up for you!"	 Er—in case my wife calls, Miss Jones, you might mention that I worked last night.	 What did you want to see me about, Miss Jones?
 Miss Jones, do you know where my cigars are?	 Are you ready now for dictation, Miss Jones?	 I would have called you earlier, but Miss Jones just gave me your message.	 You may take the rest of the day off, Miss Jones!
