

Carolina Council Has Outstanding Program

Pictures above show scenes at the Carolina Cooperative Council meeting at Central Y.M.C.A. September 17 when Thomas L. Carroll, of the National Cotton Council, addressed the group on the work of the Cotton Council and J. G. Commins, manager of the Electric Blanket Mill and other personnel from the mill presented a demonstration showing how electric blankets are assembled and tested.

Top left, Barbara Jean Earles, receptionist at radio station WLOE, was attractive model in the electric blanket demonstration. Top right, Helen Farmer and Lucy Johnson shuttle wire into an electric blanket shell. Lower left, J. G. Commins describes fine points in the manufacture of electric blankets. Lower right, Mr. Carroll is shown at flannel which he used to illustrate his talk.

DIRECTORS ARE LISTED

(Continued from page one)

of Amoskeag the owners of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc., were completely identified. "Despite rumors to the contrary," Mr. Mumford stated, "no company or person other than those announced is among the owners of Fieldcrest.

It's A Boy

Russell Drewery Cherry, Jr., arrived at Annie Penn Memorial hospital, Reidsville, September 26. Proud parents are employees of Fieldcrest: Russell in Tabulating and Lucile in Personnel.

Good housekeeping is good business!

BUY...SELL...SWAP

LOST—Eagle flagpole mount, where in Draper during Firevention parade. Finder please Bryon Vann, Boy Scout Executive. Ph. 1048-M.

FOR SALE—Two good rabbit dogs. J. H. Nelson, Draper.

FIELDCREST MILL WHIS