

Members of the Fieldcrest Team

Otis Tilley, frame hand at the Towel Mill, is a careful and skilled operator who knows the importance of efficient production, good quality roving and control of waste. He pieces up properly and watches his work constantly so that thick or thin roving may be avoided. He knows that the spinning room depends on good roving in order to make good yarn.

He is neat, orderly and cleans his machines carefully and gives special attention to his rollers. He watches closely to make sure that no lint, oil nor grease gets into the roving he makes. He avoids waste by running his cans down low and by "dumping" them properly. He handles full bobbins carefully to avoid sloughing.

Kathleen Mills, employment clerk, performs a difficult job well. She is receptionist and sometimes the interviewer of persons applying for jobs as well as processing the forms for group insurance, Mutual Aid and other matters relating to employment.

She arranges for tests, physical examinations and interviews with foremen in the cases of persons being employed for the first time. She "signs up" persons returning to work after having been laid off or out sick. Whether a person is employed or not, she must be courteous, efficient, patient and understand the other person's point of view. By doing a good job she helps the Employment Office to operate smoothly.

FIELDCREST EXHIBIT—The Fieldcrest Mills display won a blue ribbon in the exhibits at the recent Tri-City Agricultural Fair. The display featured new articles of merchandise in rugs and carpets, Sanforized bedspreads, blankets, electric blankets, hosiery, sheets, towels and synthetic fabrics manufactured by Fieldcrest.

Vol. XIII Monday, Sept. 27, 1954 No. 6

For in Him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your poets have said, For we are also His offspring.—(The Acts 17, 28.)

A deep and abiding consciousness of God should be with and within us each waking moment, and not just reserved for a certain day or a certain period of prayer. If we sought to know and to obey God's will in everything we do, say and think, how joyous and useful our lives could be!

A work-and cost-minded industrial executive, pondering his wife, figured her services at $150 a week—she cooks 1,095 meals a year, spends 650 hours cleaning, 321 hours in the laundry, 26 hours mending, still smiles at day's end.
