

MEN OF FINISHING MILL PLANT SERVICE DEPARTMENT HOLD ANNUAL STEAK SUPPER FOR RETIRED MEMBERS

Dinner Honors Retirees

The men of the Finishing Mill Plant Service Department gave their annual steak dinner for retired members of the department recently at the V-C Grill, Ridgeway, Virginia. Approximately 40 persons attended.

D. S. Archer, master mechanic, invited the retirees to come back to the mill to visit and to see the many changes that have been made at the Finishing Mill in recent times.

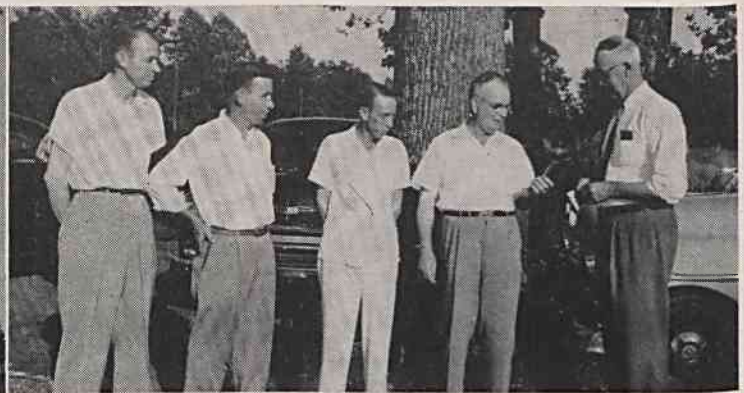

Garland Rakes, who was in charge of the arrangements for the dinner, called on the retirees for remarks. George Kingston, B. I. Nance, B. F. Lea and Everett Chatman responded with brief, informal talks. Each expressed appreciation for being remembered by his former co-workers and reported on his activities since retirement under the Fieldcrest Pension Plan.

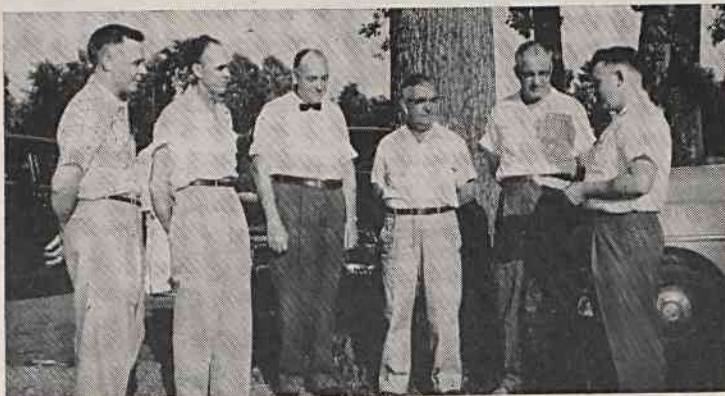

Men now retired from the shop chat with D. S. Archer, master mechanic. Left to right are Frank Aheron, Everette Chatman, Mr. Archer, B. I. Nance, George Kingston and B. F. Lea.

Newer employees of shop are Dwight Wilkinson, Mack Litaker, Allen Hancock, Jr., Troy Ellington and Bobby Talley.

Pictured in this group are Warren Rorrer, Russell Bryant, Glenn Rorrer, W. A. Hatley and B. W. Chaney.

Left to right, "Badge" Washburn, Lacey Owen, Buddy Leonard, T. A. James, Tom Brame and Garland Rakes.

Playful group here includes Lloyd Lawson, Jack Simpson, Herman Rickman, E. B. Underwood and Jack Bryant.