Karastan Mill Leads 'Y' Membership Drive

Consolidated Central Y.M.C.A. And Draper Y.M.C.A. Nearing End Of Campaigns

As The Mill Whistle went to press late Friday afternoon, the Karastan Rug Mill was leading in the membership campaign being conducted for Consolidated Central Y.M.C.A.

In the campaign at Karastan headed by John Cunningham, Raymond Endicott, Mrs. Hilda Martin, Mrs. Vivian Harris and Miss Anne Navey, a total of 355 points had been secured. It was understood that the drive in the rug mill has been virtually completed.

Paul L. Peterson, general secretary of Consolidated Central Y.M.C.A. said the campaign was going well in all divisions. "The results are very gratifying. It appears now that this will be the most successful campaign in the years that I have been here," Mr. Peterson said.

No late reports were available on the Draper Y.M.C.A. campaign although it was understood that the all-out drive to sign up a record number of members was continuing.

C. C. Campbell, of the Payroll and Banking Department at Fieldcrest, is chairman of the Consolidated Central campaign with Dr. Roy Turner as co-chairman. Dr. L. Gordon Clarke is chairman of the Draper campaign.

Fieldcrest Men Active In Jaycees

Several Fieldcrest employees are among the new officers and directors of the Tri-City Junior Chamber of Commerce installed in ceremonies at Meadow Greens Country Club Friday evening, April 29.

Mel Franklin, of the Comptroller's Department, is president, Robert Moore, Spray area industrial relations supervisor, is secretary, and R. H. Hair, Data Processing Department, is treasurer.

Stan Ellington, Quality Control Department, and Walter Schacht, Finishing Mill, are directors. Carl Hall of the Accounting Department is state director.

The Fieldcrest organization has consistently contributed leadership to the Jaycees and their many projects for community improvement. The local Jaycee group has 61 members of whom 35 are employed at Fieldcrest Mills.

Founded On Community Service
The Jaycee organization is founded on the principle that service to the community is the responsibility of every citizen. Since its beginning in 1920, this national organization of young men has been active in many important civic projects in their respective communities throughout the nation.

For example, the local Jaycees have just sponsored a Teen-age Road-e-o, part of a national project of the Jaycees. Its purpose is to encourage safe driving among high school students.

Another national program in which the local Jaycees take part is the annual beauty pageant to choose "Miss Tri-City." Such local pageants are the basis of the annual "Miss America" beauty pageant at Atlantic City.

The Tri-City Jaycees were among the first in North Carolina to sponsor such a pageant and have been instrumental in keeping the program going on a state-wide basis.

The local Jaycees have actively supported the Tri-City Community Fund since its beginning. The Jaycees gave $1000 to the building fund for the new Morehead Memorial Hospital.

The money came from the sale of waste paper, proceeds from a "follies" show they sponsored, and a part of the proceeds from the beauty pageant.

Children are a special concern of the Jaycees and the young men take perhaps the greatest interest in their Christmas Cheer program. Each year, through the sale of Christmas trees and with the help of local merchants they give "baskets" to deserving families.

The large cartons filled with basic foods and toys are delivered in person by the Jaycees late on Christmas Eve. Members report that the satisfaction of bringing cheer to less fortunate ones is a highlight of their Jaycee careers.
