Credit Union Assets Exceed U. S. Average

The recently - published financial statement of the Fieldcrest Mills Credit Union showed assets of over $311,000, making it the fastest-growing credit union in the state and larger than the average credit union in the nation.

In the worldwide credit union movement, there are fewer than a thousand credit unions with a million dollars in assets.

The "average asset" figure for the United States (federal charters) is a quarter million. The "median" in assets is only $83,000; that is, there are as many credit unions with assets under $83,000 as there are with more than $83,000.

Credit unions, large and small, for over 100 years have been helping their members to greater financial security by promoting thrift and creating a source for low-cost loans when they need to borrow money.

Questions And Answers On Credit Union Saving

- Q. How much interest is paid on savings?
- A. The Fieldcrest Mills Credit Union has paid a four per cent per annum dividend on savings each six months since it was organized. This is in line with the average dividend paid by credit unions nationally and in North Carolina.
- Q. What are the dividend periods? How are dividends calculated?
- A. The six months ending June 30 and the six months ending December 31. Dividends are based on the number of shares and the number of months these shares were in the Credit Union.
- Q. If a member dies, who gets his savings? Who repays his loan?
- A. Savings would be paid to his estate unless he had a joint account with right of survivorship. His loan would automatically be paid in full by insurance which the Credit Union carries on all loans.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation to everyone for every act of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our wife and mother. We are grateful for the flowers, cards, food, and the other expressions of sympathy. May the Lord bless each and every one of you.

Draper Native, Now In California, Visits L. A. Service Center

Garland Cook, formerly of Draper but now an orange grower in California, recently visited our Los Angeles Service Center and writes glowingly of the Fieldcrest facilities there.

He missed seeing O. D. Petty, manager of the Service Center, but met and talked with Axel Dolan, warehouse superintendent, and some members of the office staff. He had hoped to see some of the Fieldcrest truck drivers from Spray, since he is acquainted with Herbert Hundley and possibly other drivers who make the California run for Fieldcrest.

Garland, who is well remembered here, has been in California for many years. He is a flying farmer—has his own plane, a Bellanca low-wing monoplane—and citrus ranch foreman.

His father, G. C. Cook, a supervisor at the Draper mills many years ago, now makes his home with Garland in, appropriately enough, Orange, California.

Cayton Children

Roger Darrell and Brenda Gail are children of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cayton. Father is employed in the Bleachery Piece Dyeing Department, and mother, Doris, works in Bedspread Winding. Grandmother, Lillian Coleman, is employed in the Karastan Burling Department.
