

Scholarship Winners Make Visit To Mills

The recipients of $2,000 Fieldcrest Scholarships given through the Fieldcrest Foundation are shown on this page as they visited their parents on the job at Fieldcrest Mills.

However, in the case of one of the scholarship winners, Darrell Steagall, an employee of the Company, it was his parents and his wife who visited him on the job in the Leaksville Standards Department.

Glenda Overby, one of the recipients, is the daughter of John Overby, a shearing machine operator at the Bedsread Mill. Another scholarship winner was Gale Rhodes, son of Carl D. Rhodes, assistant designer in the Domestics Designing Department.

The third scholarship went to Darrell Steagall, who graduated from Tri-City High School in 1956 and is employed as a standards engineer at the Bedsread Mill and Karastan Mills.

Darrell's father, James J. Steagall is a weaver at the Bedsread Mill, and Darrell's wife, Patricia, is employed as a secretary at Karastan.

John Overby, shearing machine operator at Bedsread Mill, discusses bedspread fabric with daughter, Glenda, winner of a Fieldcrest Scholarship, and Mrs. Overby.

Carl D. Rhodes, assistant designer in the Domestics Designing Department, shows yarn sample to his son, Gale Rhodes, a scholarship recipient, and Mrs. Rhodes.

Darrell Steagall (seated at desk) who won a Fieldcrest Scholarship, visits with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Steagall and Darrell's wife, Patricia.
