spoke briefly to congratulate the employees and to express the Company's appreciation for their excellent safety performance.

In his talk, Mr. Whitcomb discussed business conditions and the outlook for the next several months. He reviewed the tremendous improvements at the Towel Mill and said he hoped that there could be further modernization of the operations.

D. A. Purcell, mill manager, reviewed the safety record of the Towel Mill, pointing out that until an injury occurred last November, the employees had worked well over three million man-hours without a lost-time injury.

He recalled that the Towel Mill, some years ago, accumulated just short of four million man-hours without lost time due to injury—an all-time record at Fieldcrest Mills. He urged the employees to work toward a new record of four million man-hours.

Edgar Gordon, foreman of Dyeing and Bleaching, conducted the drawing for attendance prizes. Towel sets were won by Nelson Bryant, Weave Room; Lura Dove, Sewing Room; Gray Elgin, Weave Room; Pat Dillard, truck driver; and Bobby Eanes, Weave Room.
