

Mrs. Fred W. Klein (shown on springboard) gives swimming instruction to Tri-City Brownie Scouts during annual day camp.

Mrs. Welsford Bishopric shows group how to build a fire.

Brownies were responsible for care of their unit campsites.

New shelter was purchased with proceeds from cookie sale.

Brownie Scouts Enjoy Annual Day Camp

Brownie Scouts from Leaksville, Spray and Draper participated in the annual day camp sponsored by District 7 of the North Carolina Piedmont Girl Scout Council. The camp was held at Camp Pine-A-Way, located just off Highway 14 in the general vicinity of the hospital on a 35-acre camping area made available to the Girl Scouts by Fieldcrest Mills.

This year, the local day camp was for Brownies only since the day camp for Intermediate Girl Scouts was conducted at Camp Chinquapin near Reidsville.

The Brownies received swimming instruction each day at the Draper pool. The well-rounded camp program included crafts, nature study, cooking out of doors, singing, folk dancing and other activities. Instruction was given in first aid and in photography.

A large percentage of the Brownies were from Fieldcrest-connected families and several of the staff members were wives of Fieldcresters.

Mrs. Homer Wright, Jr., was camp director and was assisted by Mesdames Welsford Bishopric, Charles Moffat, Charles Myers, Robert Harden, L. E. Chewning, Fred Klein, Cabell Sawyers and R. C. Tanner.

Participating Agency

Tri-City

COMMUNITY FUND

Brownies help prepare a meal for visiting adult leaders.