BOARD OF DIRECTORS

W. H. Yeatts Promoted To Assistant Foreman

The promotion of Walter H. Yeatts from spooler fixer at the Sheeting Mill to assistant foreman in the Winding Department at the Bedsread Mill has been announced, effective February 1.

He will be on the first shift for about a month, after which time he will be in charge of the second shift.

Mr. Yeatts is a native of Draper and has close to 37 years of continuous service with the company. He has never been off the payroll since he was first employed in 1925.

He worked the entire time in the Spooling Department at the Sheeting Mill. He was a warper tender from 1925 until he was promoted to spooler fixer in 1943. He continued as a spooler fixer except for working temporarily as assistant foreman.

Mr. Yeatts built a home near Cascade, Va., in 1941 and has lived there since that time. He is a charter member and deacon at the Willis Memorial Baptist Church at Cascade.

He is married to the former Miss Florence Cobb, of Spray. They have five children and six grandchildren.

McGehee Gets Request From Italy For Article Written 20 Years Ago

Dr. William McGehee, director of personnel research and training at Fieldcrest, recently received a request from a professor at the University of Palermo, Italy, for an article written by Dr. McGehee 20 years ago.

Professor G. Migliorino of the Laboratory of Applied Psychology at the University of Palermo wanted a copy of the article which appeared in the Journal of Genetic Psychology in 1942. The article concerned the socio-economic status of the homes of mentally superior and retarded children and the occupational rank of their parents.

Dr. McGehee, who was head of the Department of Industrial Psychology at North Carolina State College before he joined Fieldcrest in 1947, wrote the article from research in connection with his graduate degrees. When the article appeared, he was in the Navy and never saw it until the war was over.

In an instance of international cooperation, Dr. McGehee sent the Palermo professor the article requested, plus three others in the same general area and asked that Professor Migliorino send him reports of studies at Palermo in the field of industrial psychology.
